Autumn Wins Pennsylvania

JUDY PATTON
Union Co. Correspondent

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — At the Pennsylvania Holstein Championship Show, Judge Oren Bender selected Plum-Line Melvin Autumn as the grand champion of the 222-head contest. The show took place at the Penn State Ag Arena.

The senior 3-year-old Melvin daughter was exhibited by her breeder Patrick Carey of Titusville and co-owners Michael Carey, Fred Strouse, and Mike Weimer. Judge Bender, who is from Accident, Md., cited her depth of rib and best of show udder as her winning traits.

For reserve grand champion the judge went with Lock-Bur Commissioner Heddy, an aged cow shown by Leroy Plance of Wellsboro and co-owners Gary Heffner, Mike Heath and Allen Andrews. Her size and scale caught the judge's eye.

National DHIA Details Pa., Lancaster Agreement

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Pennsylvania DHIA and Lancaster DHIA approved an interim agreement in the long-standing dispute involving the choice of DRPC service by individual members. The boards of directors of the two DHIA's considered the proposal offered by National DHIA in separate meetings, with the last meeting held on September 3.

Soon after October 1 of this year, DHIA members in Lancaster County will have the choice of either Raleigh DRPC or Pennsylv-

Saddam 'Prisoner In His Own Country,' Says General At PennAg Banquet

ANDY ANDREWS

WHITE HAVEN (Luzerne Co.)

— PennAg's keynote speaker was vehement and impassioned about the Gulf War victory. Veteran of the Vietnam War and director of operations for the Joint Chiefs of Staff during Operation Desert Shield/Storm, Lt. General Thomas W. Kelly spoke about war and his involvement in it.

At the same time, Kelly lambasted the "pundits" who criticized the war in the months following, especially critics who think the job wasn't finished in Iraq and Saddam Hussein wasn't toppled from power — permanently.

In fact, Kelly has other ideas. "I would not want to see (Hussein) killed," said Kelly to members of PennAg's 114th annual convention at the banquet Tuesday night. "I'd like to see him captured. I'd like to see him put before a tribunal, and I would like his sentence to be Idi Amin's next-door neighbor into perpetuity so they can lean across the back fence and tell each other lies about what they used to do."

According to the Gulf War general, Saddam remains a prisoner in his own country and his own people will deal with his fate.

Kelly countered the pundits, he claimed, who didn't want the war in the first place and still complain that the job wasn't finished. If the U.S. decided to invade and take over Iraq, according to Kelly, there

England's Hog Takes Solanco Championship

QUARRYVILLE (Lancaster Co.)

— It was a matter of feeding and working with a 252-pound Duroc/Spotted gilt that brought home the bacon for Jody England in the market hog championship on Thursday at the Solanco Fair.

Jody England, 18, Drumore, picked up the championship from the heavyweight class. Judge Ken Winebark, Lebanon County livestock agent, liked the hog and said the animal was "getting to the point where there's no need to go any further" in making it marketable. "It has a long length of body... and fresh appearance."

Berks County Names Outstanding Farm Family

CONNIE LEINBACH

READING (Berks Co.) — The Martin Moyer family never expected to be honored twice in a year's time for their family farm.

But they were named Farm Family of the Year last week by the Agricultural and Horticultural Association of Berks County, which manages the Reading Fair.

"We were really surprised," said Melissa, Martin's wife, after the family was announced as winner during a banquet in the Fleetwood Grange Hall. "We were not expecting this at all," she said.

The Moyers, whose 125-acre farm is along School Road in Marion Township, were one of several families who applied for the annual honor. Each of the entrants in this year's contest submitted a scrapbook of their family activities and farming accomplishments to their home grange. The Moyers are members of Bernville Grange.

The scrapbooks contain photos which illustrate some of the activities of the families.

In announcing them winners, Karen Mohn of the Pomona Grange, noted that the Moyers have 52 Holsteins, 100 heifers and calves and one Brown Swiss.

Their herd ranks in the top 20 in Berks, having produced 22,477 pounds of milk per cow with 697

GLANCE: Prices were unchanged. The trade sentiment was steady on mediums, steady to weak on the larger sizes. Movement of cartoned eggs into retail channels was irregular and ranged slow to fairly good with the best demand where features are in progress or planned. THE OLD FARMER'S THIS WEEK WITH ALMANAC

SEPTEMBER 21-27, 1992

JOHNNY APPLESEED'S BIRTHDAY, SEPT. 26

A WANDERING MEDICINE MAN

Who was this man wandering the countryside barefoot with a funny pot on his head? Well, John Chapman was born in Leominster, Massachusetts, on September 26, 1774, and showed an early love for trees and flowering plants. Apple trees became his obsession and took him to the Ohio Valley selling and planting apple seeds and saplings. He walked barefoot over 100,000 square miles, preaching the Scripture and promoting apples. One story tells about his headgear, a tin mush pan that protected him from the weather. He used the same pan for cooking when he set up camp. American Indians regarded Chapman as a medicine man, but he got the name Johnny Appleseed from frontier settlers who made fun of him. In 1812, during the war, Chapman warned settlers in Ohio of British advances and Indian raids. He died of pneumonia in 1845 and is buried in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

He that plants trees loves others besides himself.

TIP OF THE WEEK

Reduce paper waste by using sponges and towels in the kitchen instead of paper products.

EARTHWISE

Here are some fuel-saving hints if you drive a car. Don't drive too fast because faster speeds mean more gas. Use your air conditioner only when absolutely needed. Keep your tire pressure at recommended levels for better gas mileage and longer life for the tires. Also keep your wheels aligned and air filter clean. Do pump your own gas to save money, and maybe next time, instead of taking the car to do your errands, walk to the post office or ride your bike and get some exercise while saving fuel.

INDIAN PUDDING

½ cup corn meal
½ cup molasses
dash of salt
3 cups scalded milk
1 egg, beaten
¼ teaspoon each of ginger, cinnamon, and nutmeg
1 cup raisins
1 cup cold milk

Mix the corn meal, molasses and salt well. Pour the scalded milk over the mixture and let stand 5 minutes. Add the well beaten egg, spices, and raisins. Pour into greased dish and put in a 300° F oven. After 10 minutes add 1 cup of cold milk and stir. Bake for about 2 hours. Serve warm with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream. Serves 6 people.

OPINION

Who Knows, Maybe You Will Learn Something

The nation's largest dairy cattle exposition is in Harrisburg this week, as the All-American boasts over 2,300 entries. They will come from 20 states and Canada to participate in six national breed shows and three national breed sales.

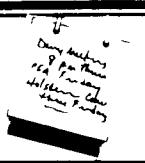

As with so many things, the importance of this event may be underestimated because it is close to home. If you need to travel to the mid-West or the West Coast to see a show or attend a sale, the value is somehow inflated.

But you will travel a long way to find anything as exciting as the All-American. The farm show complex will be filled to capacity. This year the Eastern National Brown Swiss Show and Sale has 297 entries, and the Eastern National Milking Shorthorn show has 140 entries. The National Guernsey Show will keep the large arena filled as 203 heifers and cows parade around the ring.

The Eastern National Ayrshire Show will be one of the largest in years with 228 entries and the Mid-Atlantic Jersey Show has drawn over 150 participants. And the Eastern National Holstein Show will have over 400 entries. What more can we say?

If you milk cows for a living, or if you just like to look at fancy cows and talk to your neighbors and friends, you'll want to head for Harrisburg and the All-American Dairy Show this week. Who knows, maybe you will also learn something you didn't know before.

To Attend Poultry Show

The Northeast Poultry Show will again be held at the Lancaster Host Resort, located east of Lancaster on Route 30.

This two-day event, beginning September 30, features outstanding educational programs, a large trade show, and social activities.
The trade show will have more than 70 exhibitors highlighting the latest in poultry equipment, housing, and services.

The trade show is free and will be open Wednesday, September 30 from noon to 7 p.m. and Thursday, October 1 from noon to 5 p.m.

The key in keeping this outstanding event in Lancaster is attendance. Plan now to attend and learn the latest about poultry production in the Northeast.

For more information, contact the Pennsylvania Poultry Federation at (717) 652-7530.

To Practice Biosecurity

There have been confirmed outbreaks of Newcastle Disease in turkeys in North and South Dakota. These were range turkeys who received the disease from wild birds.

Even though this outbreak occurred in the central flyway, we know the wild birds in the eastern flyway are carriers of Newcastle and Avian Influenza diseases.

To protect our domestic flocks,

Wednesday, September 30
Estimating for Residential landscape Installation Workshop, Penn State Great Valley,

we need to practice excellent biosecurity programs. When water fowl hunting, shower and change clothes after hunting and before entering poultry houses.

Tighten up your security. Keep wild birds and pets out of poultry houses. Control people entering your houses. Stay away from areas where wild birds feed and roost.

Finally, make sure your vaccination programs are current. By taking a few extra precautions, you could prevent a major poultry disease outbreak.

Note: Laryngotracheitis (LT) never went away this summer. We have been experiencing outbreaks all summer — another reason to maintain a strong biosecurity program.

To Be Aware Of Silo Gases

Silo gases may be very hazardous to your health. Nitrogen dioxide and carbon dioxide are two gases formed during the ensiling process that pose the greatest threat.

Silo gases may be a problem every year on some farms, especially those with high soil nitrogen levels. As little as two or three breaths of nitrogen dioxide gas will damage your lungs for life.

Be alert for this gas and respect
it. It has a disagreeable, bleachlike odor. The gas is heavier than air, so it accumulates on the surface of the silage, flows down the chute, and accumulates around the base of the silo.

To minimize risks, do not enter recently filled silos unless the blower is running or you are wearing proper breathing apparatus.
Keep the feed room well ventilated and prevent the gases from leaking into the stable.

WHO'S BACKING
YOU?
September 20, 1992

Background Scripture:

Joshua 1.

Devotional Reading:

Joshua 3:1-7.

When I was a teenager, the pastor of our church, Mark J. Stierwald, was a person who made the Christian faith come alive for me.
Like everyone else in the church, I idolized him. So, when he suddenly died of a heart attack, I was sure—along with the rest of the church—that his replacement, Paul Price, could not really take his place.

But, by the time Paul Price was moved to another church, under his guidance and inspiration I had decided to enter the ministry myself. As we prepared for his successor, Lester Updegrove, I was certain once again that our church would flounder for lack of leadership. But, in a way that was different from either of his predecessors, Lester Updegrove both capably led the church and was very helpful to me as I prepared to go off to seminary.

Looking back on this experience, I realize that in the church, as in all spheres of life, we may too often place all our faith in the messenger, rather than the one who sends the message. In my own experience, it was God who sent these pastors who was the source of the inspiration and guidance I received.

MOSES' SHOES

Perhaps that's the way that many of the people of Israel feel when Moses died. Although they had initially been suspicious of his leadership, in time they had come to idolize this man of God. When he died, many must have wondered whether the dream of entering the promised land had died with him. Moses and the promise seemed inseparable. Yes, of course, he had an assistant, a man named Joshua, but there was no way he could fill the shoes of Moses.

We can imagine that Joshua might have had some doubts, too.
God was saying to him, "Every place that the sole of your foot will tread upon I have given you, as I promised to Moses" (1:3). But that's just it: Moses was faithful to God and look what it got him—not the promised land, but death in the wilderness of Sinai. Was it not humiliating for Moses to have to die outside the promised land?

Understandable as that argument may be, it misses the point.
God had not promised the land of Canaan to the Israelites for the sake of honoring or vindicating Moses, but of fulfilling his gracious purpose. God chose Moses, not to give this man personal success, but so that his will could be done through him. And so God chose Joshua for the same reason—not to make him a great man, but to accomplish his purpose. I point this out because sometimes in the church we forget the purpose of the leadership God supplies. It is not to advance the careers of the clergy and make some of them bishops. It is not to build the churches on their personalities. It is advance the purposes of God.

WITH YOU

So, God gives Joshua this assurance: "As I was with Moses, so I will be with you; I will not fail you or forsake you. Be strong and of good courage" (1:5b,6). And again: "Be strong and of good courage; be not frightened, neither be dismayed; for the Lord your God is with you wherever you go" (1:9). It was the presence of God with Moses that made him a great leader and it will be that same presence that works through Joshua. Important as Moses was and Joshua will be, it is God who provides the power that is needed.

Back in the 1960's, I was part of a small group of Christians who wanted to start a coffee house ministry to reach some of the street people of Reading PA. The obstacles were formidable. I remember going to one business leader to solicit his help. After I outlined the project, he asked:
"Who's backing you?" Without stopping to weigh my answer, I replied: "The Lord." "Hmm," he mused, "that's pretty good backing—I guess I'll join you."

When God calls you to take up a task for him. The key is not how capable you are, but who's backing you.

Fixed competitive payments
Flexible payment schedules
Year-end tax planning
100% deductibility

Some people get all the breaks.

Put the breaks on your tax bill. Get your equipment with a true tax lease by December 31 and your payments are 100% tax-deductible as an operating expense. Plus, with an annual payment schedule, you can benefit from a large tax write-off this year and not make a second payment for as many as 12 full months.

You'll have several more good reasons to look forward to a happy new year. You can lock in your order now and take delivery in 1993. You'll enjoy fixed, competitive payments and can choose a payment schedule that allows you to skip payments in the months or season of lowest income. You also can get whatever you want right now without jeopardizing your ability to fully depreciate other assets bought earlier in the year.

Find out how lease financing can help you get all the year-end breaks you deserve. Contact your local Telmark representative today, or call 315-449-7964.

100 Market And Breeding Sheep Compete At Denver Fair

LOU ANN GOOD

Lancaster Farming Staff
DENVER (Lancaster Co.) — A 128-pound Suffolk leaped to the top of the market lamb competition at the Denver Fair on Thursday night.

"Thomas is like a deer. He is always jumping the fence at home," said 15-year-old Kendall Reiff, who showed the feisty lamb. "I guess all that jumping developed the right muscling."

Several months ago, Thomas was extremely ill with a virus and lost a lot of weight. "He was so skinny for a couple of months that I never thought, he'd win. But I nursed him back to health and he really took off," Kendall said.

Kendall, son of Sam and Elva Reiff of Ephrata, purchased his heavyweight market lamb from his uncle Leroy Reiff who is the father of Lyndon and Lisa Reiff of Strasburg. His cousins win many of the sheep shows throughout the county but did not compete in the Denver show because they were showing at Solanco Fair.

Top showmanship honors went to Jeff Bollinger of Ephrata. Bollinger and his twin, Jerry, and another brother Keith have about 20 Suffolk and Cheviots, which they showed in both market and breeding divisions. His brother Keith received the reserve champion market lamb trophy for his Hampshire and Suffolk crossbreed. The Bollingers are sons of Raymond and Sharon Bollinger.

"I've been showing for five years, but it's the first time that I won in showmanship," a surprised Jeff said. "I attribute it to Betsy, a good tempered, tame Suffolk."

In the breeding division, Jessica Stoltzfus of Elizabethtown showed the supreme champion ram.

Reserve supreme champion ram went to Nicole Knepp, who showed a Corriedale. Nicole, a 13-year-old from Mohnton, is the daughter of Dawn and Ted Knepp.

"This was my first big win," she said. "I like the Corriedale breed because they are versatile and have a good temper."

Supreme champion ewe award went to a Southdown owned by Leon Hunter of Fleetwood. The 15-year-old is the son of Leon and Pat Hunter. With his three sisters, Leon has a flock of 25. His 17-year-old sister, Christine, was named reserve champion in the showmanship competition.

Reserve supreme champion ewe went to a Hampshire owned by Raphael Peters.

"It's the first time that I did this well," said Raphael, who has been showing for 5 years. The 15-year-old is the son of Raymond and Rebecca Peters of Middletown, where they own a flock of 14 breeding and market sheep.

Listed are results for the 100-head entered in the Denver Fair:

Auction To Benefit Relief Projects

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — You can join in an action-packed, two-day event to raise funds for victims of disaster in the United States and around the world.

The 16th annual Church of the Brethren Disaster Relief Auction will be held Friday and Saturday, September 25 and 26, at the Lebanon Area Fairgrounds, three miles south of Lebanon off Route 72.

A monetary goal of $330,000 has been set for this event, sponsored by the 112 churches of the Atlantic Northeast and southern Pennsylvania districts of the Church of the Brethren. Year-round efforts of many volunteer workers, donated items, and thousands of auction attendees will help to make this possible.

Friday evening, September 25, begins with a worship service at 6 p.m. At 7 p.m., an auction of approximately 75 head of registered and grade heifers will be held as well as an auction of a variety of items. Saturday's auction will begin at 8:30 a.m., with Winross trucks auctioned at 10 a.m., approximately 100 handstitched quilts auctioned at 10:30 a.m., and baseball cards at 1:30 p.m. During the two days, various paintings by local artists, furniture, and many handcrafted items will be sold.

There will be a farmer's market of fresh produce starting at 6 p.m. on Friday and 8 a.m. on Saturday. A variety of homemade foods will be available both days, including approximately 1,000 pies, soups, apple dumplings, and pot pie. In addition, there will be more than 60 craft vendors displaying and selling items.

In 1991, monies from the Church of the Brethren Emergency Disaster Fund aided people in many regions, including Sudan, Haiti, the Middle East, the former USSR, Puerto Rico, California, Texas, and Louisiana.

Waltimyer, Stine Top York Open Steer Show

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

YORK (York Co.)—Shawn Waltimyer, Airville, had a repeat performance when he led his crossbred steer to the winner's circle in the open show at the York Fair. Waltimyer had won the show last year, also with a crossbred steer. In addition to the supreme championship, the 15-year-old son of Harley and Carol Waltimyer showed the Simmental breed champion. Earlier at the fair he won the 4-H Market steer show. Shawn has been showing steers in 4-H for eight years.

The reserve champion of the show followed the grand champion from the Other Breeds division for Ben Stine, East Berlin. Stine was playing football, so his winning steer was shown by Jamie Boyer.

Reserve breed champion Simmental was shown by Jarrod Schiding, Dallastown. K & K Cattle Co. Fleetwood, showed the Chianina champion.

In the Hereford breed, Jennifer Altobelli, Dover, showed the champion, and Jason Frantz, Seven Valleys, showed the reserve champion.

Temmi Grubb, Hanover, showed the champion Angus and Kelly Myers, Thomasville, had the

Angus Supreme In York Breeding Competition

JOYCE BUYP

York Co. Correspondent

YORK (York Co.) — Angus entries dominated the best of show runoffs in the York Fair's open class breeding competition, taking both Supreme Champion in the female and bull categories.

Seven Valleys veteran 4-H member Robin Shive wrapped up her youth showing career with the Supreme title for her homebred Buffalo Valley Missie, better known around the Shive farm by her nickname "Jenna."

Jenna, a March 1991 heifer, also took champion honors in the 4-H breed show for her 19-year-old exhibitor. The Shive show-string gets plenty of the proverbial Tender Loving Care in the months prior to fall shows, with cool showers every morning to keep their haircoats in shape and then kept cool with fans through hot, humid days.

The Supreme Champion Bull weighed only 40 pounds when he was born 19 months ago, earning him the name "Circle G Little One."

Little One now tops the scale at 1950 pounds, though owners Phil and Pat Godfrey, Manheim, attest to his gentle, calm temperament. Since his debut on the show circuit last season, the typey Angus has won his division in 8 out of 9 appearances. The champion bull is one of a herd of seven head raised by the Godfreys at their Circle G Farm on Meadow View Road.

In the Simmental breed show, champion female was exhibited by Dunkard Valley Farms of Dal-lastown, with the bull honors taken by Mark Hitz, Lebanon. Reserve champion female went to Hutter's Springhill Farm and Mark Hitz also took the bull reserve championship.

Paradise Farm, Dover, topped the female entries in the Hereford classes to take champion honors, with the reserve champion exhibited by Green Leaf Farm, Pylesville, Maryland. Champion bull was exhibited by Green Leaf Farms, with the reserve honors going to Margeaux Firestone, Womelsdorf.

Charolais classes were dominated by South Mountain Farm of Gettysburg, taking both female and bull grand championships. Reserve female was the entry shown by Stan Reeve, York Springs, and reserve bull was exhibited by K. C. Acres, Abbottstown.

In the Angus division, Keith Grubb of Hanover finished in the reserve champion female spot, behind Robin Shive's supreme winner. Supreme bull exhibitors Circle G Farm also exhibited the reserve champion Angus bull.

Doug White, Gettysburg, earned the champion female rosette in the Santa Gertrudis competition. Reserve champion female and champion and reserve bull honors went to Chapel Ridge Farm, also of Gettysburg.

My corn acres are planted to hybrids that pass my test.

I've learned over the years that almost everything works better if I have a plan; and that includes deciding which hybrids should go on the bulk of my corn acres. That's why no new hybrid makes it into my "permanent" lineup until I've seen it on my own farm for at least two years.

Take my Jacques 7820, for example. I started with it because it looked good on a neighbor's place all season long. Well, the two years I tested it were about as different from each other as any two years could be. But both times, 7820 was right up at the top in yields and acted like it was bred just for those conditions.

That made me wonder if I really needed to do my own testing — but I like the extra level of confidence it gives me.

So I'm still doing it. This year, my new one is Jacques 7970 and it'll get its chance at more acres if it outperforms the hybrid I'm comparing it against. I'll admit it's not a real complicated system; but it works for me.

Dairy Gridiron Classic Set

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — College football season has arrived, and the "Dairy Gridiron Classic" has returned for the annual battle to win the milk can trophy. This event will take place on Saturday, September 26, as the Penn State Nittany Lions will compete on the gridiron to retain "Classic" title over the Maryland Terrapins.

The winner of the affair will take home the trophy and bragging rights from the well-established contest. But, more importantly, the Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program will award the winning university $1,000 in scholarship monies for students pursuing careers in dairy and food science.

Last year, Penn State's football team defeated the Terrapins at Memorial Stadium, in Baltimore, to win the "Classic" for the second consecutive year. The 1992 matchup will be held at Beaver Stadium, on the Penn State Campus, at University Park. Following the game, scholarship monies and the trophy will be awarded to winning coach and team.

The 1991 scholarship monies were awarded to three students enrolled in Penn State's College of Agriculture. Brent Baker and James Wanner are students majoring in dairy and animal science, and Stephanie Merkel is a student majoring in food science. All three students are working toward careers in the dairy industry.

Dairy farmers across Pennsylvania are encouraged to join the PDPP and cheer for both teams as they battle for the dairy industry's "milk can." Further details about the "Dairy Gridiron Classic" are available by calling (717) 787-6903. Ticket information for the September 26 game can be obtained by calling the Beaver Stadium ticket office at (814) 865-7567.

Maryland Recognizes Outstanding Holstein Breeders

EVA MARTIN

Maryland Correspondent

TIMONIUM, Md. — Each day during the Holstein show at the Maryland State Fair, special awards are presented to recognize outstanding achievements and accomplishments of Holstein breeders.

The Breed Improvement Committee of the Maryland Holstein Association, chaired by Jeff Myers, made elections of 1992. Outstanding senior breeder was O Clayton and Shirley Smith. Outstanding junior breeder went to Steve and Kelly Wilson, and the distinguished service award went to Ted Ridgely.

Clayton Smith began farming with his father and in 1969 launched out on his own by acquiring half his father's herd. Purchases were made to increase and improve the herd with an emphasis on registered cows. His keen eye and common sense approach to a balanced breeding program has led the OCS Dairy herd to great prominence.

Clayton has always believed in promoting registered Holsteins. He has merchandised in national, state and county sales as well as exporting. Many successful sales have been held at the farm. In addition, tours have been hosted for many out-of-state groups and school children.

In 1990, OCS Dairy had the highest butterfat herd in the state at 887 lbs., second highest in protein at 709 lbs. and second highest in energy corrected milk (ECM) at 23, 646 lbs.

The herd was also honored this past year with the state award for the highest BAA herd with more than 90 cows with a BAA of 107.3.

Clayton, his wife Shirley and their seven children have been force to reckon with for years in the show ring. OCS Dairy Elevation Katie was an All-American calf and a National Ohio Futurity winner.

They have had several All-American nominations and junior All-American winners. Many of these show winners have been sired by OCS Dairy Elevation Phil, a bull who has had a significant influence on their herd.

Smith has served as president of the Frederick County Holstein Club, as a delegate to the National Holstein Convention and has been active on show and sale committees in Maryland. He has been a county DHI director and a charter member of the Brunswick FFA Alumni.

Winners: Steve and Kelly Wilson currently milk 135 cows on 230 acres near Parkton in Baltimore County. Steve purchased his first registered Holstein in 1967.

At that time, they milked 5 Ayrshires and 20 grade Holsteins. The current herd average is 19,281 lbs. milk, 803 lbs. of fat, 619 lbs. protein and a BAA of 102.

A 14-year member of 4-H, Steve was active in showing and judging. His 4-H dairy record book was a national winner of 1977. From 1975-1983, he ran the milking parlor at the State fair.

He is co-manager for the Eastern Shore Showcase Sale, has served the terms as district show chairman and Baltimore County Dairy Show co-chairman. A past president of Baltimore County Holstein Club, he has also served as banquet chairman for four years.

Steve's enthusiasm and hard work for the Holstein breed is evident on the state level as well. As a state director, he has served on breed improvement and bylaw committees. He has also held the office of director with the Baltimore County Farm Bureau, Maryland Line Community Association and West Liberty Methodist Church.

His goal is to breed a cow with a wide rump, wide rear udder, and good feet and legs. He said he wants a cow that will score 83 or higher, average 20,000 lbs. of milk with 4 percent butterfat and 3.4 percent protein for 10 lactations and all by her 14th birthday!

His approach to breeding cows is to use dairy character as an indicator for milking ability without getting overly concerned with high P.D. bulls.

Andrew Theodore Ridgely, known as Ted to Holstein breeders, was recognized for his contributions to the dairy industry in receiving the distinguished service award.

His interest in the Holstein cow started at an early age under the careful eye and correct work ethics of Buddy Hill at Logwood Farms.

While working at Logwood, he realized the need for a college degree and attained a Bachelor's degree in dairy science at the University of Maryland. He was a member of the 1959 college judging team and placed second in the national contest.

Ted worked while attending college to pay for his education. It was at the University that he met his wife, Ruth. Ruth was several years ahead of Ted in college and upon her graduation, went to work to help with those college bills.

Dennis Remsburg presents the Distinguished Service award to Ted and Ruth Ridgely.

From the left, William and Ruth Hill present the junior Holstein breeder award to Kelly and Steve Wilson.

After graduation, Ted served as herdsman and later as manager of the university's dairy and agronomy research farm in Howard County.

Then, after a few years of managing the Kingwood Cattle Company in West Virginia, he returned to Maryland and worked for North American Breeders.

In 1980, Ted was hired as manager of the Maryland Division of Sire Power, Inc. In this capacity, Ted has put forth the effort to promote the Holstein cow and the dairy industry.

Through his efforts, many programs are still sponsored by Sire Power that may otherwise have been dropped from their program, giving silver dollars to 4-H exhibitors showing progeny of Sire Power bulls, and jackets for judging team and dairy bowl team members. The All-Maryland

Calendar and scholarship program for students enrolled in a college agricultural program are also the result of Ted's labor.

He has served on the All-

Maryland Committee, the Breed Improvement Committee and Show Committee, assisting in the ring at the Holstein Spring Show and State Fair.

Wins National Award

SOUTHAMPTON (Bucks Co.) — Nancy Scott Roeger, public relations specialist of Dairy Council in Southampton, received the 1992 APEX Award for Publication Excellence in desktop publishing.

The recognition was given for the 1990 Annual Report which was completely produced through desktop publishing. Desktop publishing was introduced to the organization three years ago.

The award, given by Communications Concepts, recognizes excellence in publications work by professional communicators. Nearly 3,600 entries were received. Dairy Council was one of less than 500 awards of excellence received.

Dairy Council, Inc. is a non-profit nutrition education organization whose services extend to the tri-state area of southeastern and south central Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey, and Delaware.

PaDHIA Offers Nutritional Program

PSU Dairy Specialist

Both ration evaluation and feeding recommendations are now available to DHI members through a new nutrition program offered on an optional basis at a moderate charge.

This program was developed with the assistance of dairy nutritionists at Penn State to provide ter and bookkeeping work, assisting in surgical preparation, and anesthesia administration as well as pre- and post-surgical care for large and small domestic animals.

Prior to working for John Sims at BMVC, she was employed at Bucknell University as an introductory psychology course coordinator and before that a laboratory instructor.

Meg's love for animals has drawn her to her hobby - training and showing horses. Meg is currently residing in Potter Mills, Centre County and just got married to Harry Baer on Sept. 13, 1992.

Meg will be working for ARIS Administrator Pat Toretto and can be reached at 1-800-344-8378.

additional nutritional information to DHI members and their consultants. Nutritional allowances as given in the 1988 NRC primarily are used in this service.

Periodic evaluations may help prevent production or health problems and help in alleviating such problems, including abnormal milk fat or protein tests. The ration evaluation program indicates how close the nutritional needs of both milking and dry cows are being met by their reported feed intake.

Ration recommendations include the amounts of concentrate to be fed daily as a single concentrate mix or on a two-feed basis (energy and protein supplements).

In addition, amounts of top-feed for each cow will be indicated according to rates given by the client. These recommended amounts of feed also may be used in making a total mixed ration for various groups by choosing levels of concentrate recommended for cows producing 10-15 pounds more milk than group average.

Further, recommended nutrient specifications for balancing concentrates are indicated for crude protein, calcium, phosphorus, magnesium, salt and the desired net energy level as reported.

When properly used, these programs should help to prevent nutritionally related problems with production, milk composition and health. Excesses or deficiencies can be flagged to the member and his nutritional consultant on a regular basis or when ever requested, not necessarily on DHI test day.

Similarly, concentrate feeding levels and nutrient specifications can be obtained at any time. However, both evaluation and recommendations must be requested for proper processing.

The goal of the program is to provide additional and more detailed feeding information than previously available through DHI and assist dairymen in improving the profitability of their herd.

Information on how to request this optional service may be obtained from DHI supervisors, dairy extension agents and the Pa DHIA office (814-865-1517).

Average Farm Feed Costs For Handy Reference

Buries a little residue. Or a lot.

The new White 445 Chisel Plow makes complying with residue guidelines and requirements easy. Options like rippled coulters and chisel points set at 15" spacing leave lots of residue. Concave coulters and twisted shovels set at 12" spacing leave less residue. And these are just a few of the combinations available.

Our deep-till shank option rips hardpan by tilling 4" to 6" deeper than chisel shanks. This reduces compaction problems. And our leveling bar option provides a smoother surface for your next pass.

With nine models ranging from 7' to 23' working width, there's a model with the options to match your residue management plans.

Indiana Jr. Livestock Sale Sets Record

RANDY WELLS
Indiana Co. Correspondent
INDIANA (Indiana Co.) — The 30th Annual Junior Livestock Sale at the Indiana County Fair set a new total gross value of $111,887.15, beating the previous high gross value of $101,873.15 set in 1991.

But the usual up-beat atmosphere of the sale was overcast by a somber tone.

Several of the buyers and sellers donated their proceeds or purchases to help pay the medical bills of a local 4-H member who was battling leukemia in a Pittsburgh hospital.

Jennifer Lydic, of Marion Center RD 2, was unable to participate in this year's fair and sale — or to start her senior classes at Marion Center Area High School — because she had been hospitalized since Aug. 6.

In addition to raising dairy and beef cattle, Jennifer was president of the Northern Dairy 4-H Club and treasurer of the Marion Center FFA.

When her 4-H project cross-bred steer came up for auction at the sale, a group of area residents bid a record $9 per pound for the 1,180-pound animal, for a total of $10,620. The new owners immediately then offered the steer for sale again, and raised another $2,360 when the Joseph DeFelice and Sons Slaughter House in Punxsutawney and the Cloe Lumber Co. of Jefferson County bid $2.25 per pound for the animal.

Proceeds from the sale of other animals, as well as a bake sale and benefit dance at the fair, raised nearly $20,000 for Jennifer's medical expense fund.

But on Sunday morning — only 36 hours after the sale — Jennifer died at Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh. She was 17.

The 108 buyers at the Livestock Sale purchased 246 head of hogs, lambs and beef cattle weighing a total of 80,013 pounds.

The 149 head of market hogs sold weighed 34,955 pounds. The average price per pound with champions was $1.27, and without champions was $1.23.

The 65 head of market lambs weighed 6,684 pounds. The average price per pound with champions was $1.90, and without champions was $1.65.

The 32 head of market steers weighed 38,374 pounds. The average price per pound with champions was $1.26, and without champions was $1.11.

Some highlights of the sale included these sellers, buyers and prices:

Mindi Dinger's Grand Champion Market Hog, bought by Luther Ford of Homer City for $5.25 per lb. ($1,286.25).

Julie Lewis's Reserve Grand Champion Market Hog, bought by Elkin's Concrete of Indiana for $3.10 per lb. ($728.50).

Debbie Blose's Grand Champion Pork Carcass, bought by Bob and Mike Orr of Creekside RD 1 for $4.50 per lb. ($657).

Larry Lewis's Reserve Grand Champion Pork Carcass, bought by Indiana Shop 'N Save Market of Indiana for $3.20 per lb. ($547.20).

Tim Bishop's Champion Rate of Gain Market Hog, bought by S&T Bank of Indiana for $2.20 per lb. ($475.20).

Jason Kuzemchak's Grand Champion Market Lamb, bought by Evergreen Motors, Inc. of Indiana for $9.00 per lb. ($1,161).

Chad Kuzemchak's Reserve Grand Champion Market Lamb, bought by Evergreen Motors of Indiana for $9.00 per lb. ($1,143).

Tim Bishop's Grand Champion Lamb Carcass, bought by D.L. Lockard Construction of Marstell-er for $5.10 per lb. ($265.20).

Mary Cattau's Reserve Grand Champion Lamb Carcass, bought by Elkin's Concrete of Indiana for $6.25 per lb. ($334.38).

Mary Cattau's Champion Rate of Gain Market Lamb, bought by Rep. Sam Smith of Punxsutawney, for $4.50 per lb. ($324).

Tim Bishop's Grand Champion Market Steer, bought by Hoss's Steak and Sea House of Indiana for $4.20 per lb. ($5,317.20).

Darla Fyock's Reserve Grand Champion Market Steer, bought by Giant Eagle Market of Indiana, for $2.45 per lb. ($3,136).

Your Farm Credit Banker. Nobody Knows The Field Better.

Sure, you'll find Farm Credit bankers all buttoned up, ready to talk short- or long-term loans, mortgages and sophisticated lines of credit.

But underneath the shirt and tie, you'll find the one thing the other banks don't offer: A fellow farmer.

Most Farm Credit loan officers were born and raised on farms and got their college degrees from ag schools. Nearly all of them grew up with 4-H and the Future Farmers of America.

And, if that's not enough, every single one of our loan officers goes through the toughest ag lending training program in America.

Farm Credit
Years and Still the Best in the Field

That means when you talk to a Farm Credit loan officer about any kind of ag loan, you won't have to waste your time translating to someone who's book smart but farm foolish.

What's more, because Farm Credit loan officers understand farming as well as they understand finances, they're not only smarter, they're faster. After all, they have the same loan closing authority as many local bank presidents.

So when you need competitive rates or creative options, see your local Farm Credit banker. Because nobody knows the field better.

vania DRPC. This type of choice is encouraged under National DHIA policy. Lab service and certification will continue at Pennsylvania DHIA, with most of the field services supplied directly by the Lancaster local association.

"This underscores National DHIA's interest in encouraging service options for DHIA members while maintaining those programs, such as genetic evaluations, that have benefitted the entire U.S. dairy industry over the years," said Mike Quesnell, National DHIA president. "This outcome has shown that all levels of DHIA must unite to serve local interests, because all farmer-members are local, after all."

"This accord has a term of six months to allow a discussion of DHIA structure to occur at regional caucuses and at national meetings," Phil Dukas, CEO of National DHIA, said. "This solution will make the fullest use of the democratic process, saving dairymen from supporting needless legal wrangling, and preserving the community spirit that is at the heart of the U.S. dairy industry."

The proposal was in response to a formal request by Lancaster DHIA to define the options available under National DHIA policies and bylaws. National DHIA directors and staff provided this definition in the context of a negotiated agreement that also provided uninterrupted service and expanded options for the local members.

Robert Wenger, Lancaster DHIA president, and Frank Orner, Pennsylvania DHIA president, were key forces in establishing a atmosphere conducive to agreement and progress. Within days after accepting the proposal, Wenger called a meeting of local members to explain the options and seek further input.

A Working Group is in place to deal with any unresolved issues, thus freeing the full boards to focus on development of new services and routine operation of the programs. The Working Group is composed of three members from the state and local associations, with Dr. Stanley Curtis, Head of the Penn State Department of Dairy and Animal Science, and Phil Dukas serving as facilitators.

"Every DHIA member across the country has a right to quality service at an equitable price," states John Noble, the National DHIA vice president. "As our environment changes, our definition of quality service may change, and differences of opinion will be inevitable. However, we need to rely on solid leadership that is committed to serving its neighbors and community."

Additional background on the 10-point agreement can be obtained by calling the National DHIA office at (614) 890-3630.

National DHIA serves as a liaison for the DHIA System with other dairy industry organizations. The DHIA System provides dairy management information systems for the dairy industry which aid dairy producers' profitability. The DHIA System is comprised of 41 state/regional DHIA's, 56 central milk analysis laboratories, and nine dairy records processing centers. The DHIA System includes over 2,000 employees nationwide and has a membership of nearly 57,000 dairy producers.

would be dire, far-reaching, and long-lasting consequences. For one, more Americans would have been killed. For another, if Iraq was invaded and conquered, the U.S. would have had to pay to fix it — "tens of billions of dollars that we don't have," said Kelly. Kelly said the forces could quite possibly have gotten bogged down in another Beirut or Vietnam-like situation, "where they pick you off a couple a day and you're there for a long, long time. We didn't need to slip down that slippery slope one more time." Also, the U.N. resolutions worked according to all objectives and helped ensure Persian Gulf stability and paved the way for further Arab-Israeli peace in the area, according to Kelly.

"We took on the fourth largest army in the world," said Kelly. The Iraq army included more than a million men, 9,000 tanks, 4,500 artillery pieces, innumerable other combat systems, and 1,000 combat aircraft. The war comprised 42 days of aerial bombardment and 100 hours of ground combat, said Kelly. About three quarters of Iraq's entire combat equipment was wiped out.

"And that army was destroyed," he said. "Let me tell you, that army was destroyed. And it's still destroyed. And they can't project power nowhere, no time, and we can step on them like a bug anytime we want to." Kelly said about all the Iraqis have is enough "to kill Iraqis, and that's a shame."

Kelly said Saddam's army went from the fourth largest army in the world to the second biggest army in Iraq.

Metatron Milk Meter

Metatron Control

METATRON PROVIDES A MANAGEMENT LINK
Westfalia's Metatron gives you the edge in effective, economical herd management. This DHIA and USDA approved cowside milk meter provides milk metering on an individual cow milking for in-parlor evaluation. Vital information of milk produced, maximum milk flow, average milk flow and milking time is also available at cowside. Aids you to better manage each individual cow.

AUTOMATIC CLUSTER REMOVAL

Automatic cluster removal is another built-in feature of Westfalia's Metatron. Dependable and durable, the Metatron performs with accuracy and precision when removing the cluster from the cow's udder.

The Metatron Milk Meter is transparent for visible operation and designed to take years of use. The unrestricted, full 1" milk outlet takes into account all air flow and milk flow requirements for high producing dairy cows of today and tomorrow. It's convenient, too, and can be on line mounted, or remotely mounted out of the operator's way.

New Greenhouse Liner Holds Water Runoff In Bench

Bird-in-Hand (Lancaster Co.)—A new inexpensive product to make ebb and flow systems in greenhouses environmentally safe from water run-off and save production input at the same time has been installed in Hellberg's Greenhouses. The product known as Loudon Liners is manufactured by Loudon Plastics, Inc., Latham,

New York, and is distributed by Geo. K. Groff, Inc., Bird-in-Hand. The new product allows any grower to retro fit existing bench or growing tables with the custom made .020 mil, white P.V.C liner. According to James Dostal, general manager of the greenhouses, 60 to 70 percent of the water used in potted plant production runs off into the ground. And the excess nutrients go with the water, causing environmental concerns and possible EPA action in the future.

Frank Muraco and Bill Wiley from Loudon demonstrated the new liners at Hellberg's on Wednesday.

"We got involved about a year ago when people from Rutgers University came to us with some concerns with water runoff in greenhouses and what EPA may do in the future about this problem," Wiley said. "As a plastics manufacturer, we were asked what could be done to help eliminate the problem. So we developed a customized form-fitted liner to drape in the trays and benches so they contain the water."

"We measure the bench length, width, and overlap at the time of the order. Then we manufacture a form fitting liner. It cannot be mass produced because each greenhouse is different."

Not only does the new method

Solanco Shows Quality Dairy Cattle

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff
QUARRYVILLE (Lancaster Co.) — Judges praised the quality of dairy animals shown this week at the Southern Lancaster County (Solanco) Fair, held Wednesday and Thursday in Quarryville at the Solanco fairgrounds.

The Holstein breed had the usual strongest showing, but was followed by the Ayrshire show which saw a lot of depth in classes. The Jersey breed and Brown Swiss breed were also represented in numbers higher than many of the small fairs.

Age was beauty at the Holstein show which featured Donald Seipt as judge. Seipt is former president of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America and especially praised several of the older animals in the show, making Bethany Kauffman's 5-year-old Melvin daughter grand champion of the show.

The tall, well-built cow is on a 330-day lactation, which is about to end, and has produced 33,600 pounds of milk, about 1,100 pounds of fat and about 1,070 pounds of protein.

The cow has also produced several trophies and awards for Beth. She was first in her class at the Lancaster County open Holstein show and was grand champion of the youth division. Two years ago, as a 3-year-old, she was grand champion of the Lancaster County Holstein show.

Sea Green Dale Fortune, a 2-year-old sired by Russelldale Promise and owned by Mark Hess, was named reserve grand champion.

But Seipt mentioned a 12-year-old dry cow owned by Richard Breckbill several times during the show. Breckbill received both the premier breeder and premier exhibitor awards of the show. The 12-year-old was edged out of the top dry cow class by an 8-year-old. Though the range of ages in the first six places of the class ran from 3-years-old to the 12-year-old.

Richard Lieske showed both the junior and reserve junior champions, taking four firsts in the junior-cattle classes.

The Solanco show also holds a concurrent junior-open and junior 4-H and FFA show. The junior open division is for youth up to 19 years old whose wishes to show owned animals which are not included in a 4-H or FFA project. There were two entries in the junior open division.

The grand champion of the youth division was shown by Karen Kauffman, while the reserve champion was shown by Josh Housekeeper.

The colored breed shows were judged by Robert Kauffman, a Holstein breeder from Elizabethtown, not the Robert Kauffman of Peach Bottom, who is the father of Karen and Beth.

In the Ayrshire show, Wentworth Farm Homer's Villa, owned by Rob and Bonnie Wentworth, was named grand champion. The 2-year-old Villa was sired by Caverly Farms V's Homer-ET.

The reserve grand champion Ayrshire was also a Wentworth cow, Wentworth Farms Miss Nellie, also sired by Homer.

The Wentworths were named premier breeder, while Robert and Sharon Nolan were named premier exhibitor.

In the youth division, the grand champion was owned by Kevin Nolan, while the reserve grand champion was owned by Craig Nolan.

In the Jersey breed, Patricia and Elizabeth Jenkins walked away with both the senior, grand and reserve senior and reserve grand champions. Both animals are owner-bred.

The grand champion was 2-year-old CLV Merry Fucia, sired by Heaths Merrymaker Lord. The reserve grand was CLV Faithful Golden, a 7-year-old cow sired by Golden Faithful.

The junior champion was an intermediate calf, Lynmoore Sebastian Jen, shown by Karen Shaub. The reserve junior champion was a summer yearling shown by Thomas Herr, Herrvaes Sooner Karmel. Herr was named premier breeder and exhibitor.

In the Jersey youth division, Karen Shaub showed the champion, while Rusty Herr showed the reserve.

In the Brown Swiss show, Richard Lieske and Scott Wagner, of both of Quarryville area, were the two exhibitors, with Lieske showing the grand champion and Wagner showing the reserve grand.

In the combined youth showing and fitting competitions, Kevin Nolan took first place among the colored breed exhibitors aged 12 and younger. He was followed by Rusty Herr and Bradford Waltmyer.

Scott Wagner was first among those aged 13 and older. He was followed by Brian Nolan and Craig Nolan.

In the Holstein show, Barbara Schenning was first of the younger group, followed by Josh Housekeeping and Mike Bollinger.

Sheri Bollinger was first in the 13-years and older class, followed by Craig Nolan and Jill Harnish.

Pa. Hog Breeders Win Md. Fair

EVA MARTIN

Maryland Correspondent

TIMONIUM, Md. — The supreme champion female over all swine breeds at the Maryland State Fair went to a Duroc owned by Holloway Durocs of Glen Rock, Pa.

They were awarded the Will Harvey Memorial trophy by the Maryland Pork Producers Association for the win.

Judge Gene Isler, in selecting the Duroc, said she could hold her own anywhere. He described her, "as just a long, level-made animal with tremendous width and perfect underline."

Isler is from Delaware, Ohio, where he and his brother have a purebred Hampshire and Yorkshire operation. Just this past year, they began a swine boar stud with 60 boars known as Lean Value Sires.

Supreme champion barrow went to a Hampshire shown by Kenneth Winebark of Myerstown, Pa. James Martin, Hampstead, won the supreme champion pair of barrows, with his entries.

It's Cool and the Corn's Wet

Don't pay to dry it. Store it in a Harvestore® structure

Drying costs could be a shocker this year. To start, it's been a cool, wet summer. Then consider that the past couple years have been dry. So you may have to get ready for some higher than average drying bills. . . and some real traffic jams at the elevator.

Here's a better idea: Feed your livestock high-moisture grain. When stored in a Harvestore structure, it's a very efficient way to handle your wet corn . . . and you can eliminate most of the waiting time, labor and cost of drying.

The difference is the shape of the feeder's trough (at right). ULTRAFLO II's higher trough lip reduces feed waste by keeping it in the trough and not on the floor or in the pit.

The Right Choice in cage feeders

Chore-Time's popular ULTRAFLO® Cage Feeding System is now even more outstanding! We've developed and tested the second generation of ULTRAFLO feeders and named it the ULTRAFLO® II.

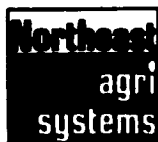

ULTRAFLO II offers you even greater reliability, durability, and outstanding feed-saving performance—up to 1 gram of feed per bird per day—over the original ULTRAFLO. And even the original ULTRAFLO was beating our competitors in feed savings!

So, join the cage feeding leader. Contact us today. Find out how Chore-Time and ULTRAFLO II can help you be a leader, too!

protein and 767 of fat.

Last year, their farm, One Hill Farm, was named a Dairy of Distinction.

The four Moyer children, Jeffrey, 10, Amy, 9, Kristen, 4, and Sarah, 2, help during the evening milking.

"They enjoy working together and working in the community," Mohn said.

Also honored during the evening committee banquet, were four young women. They were recognized for their years of efforts in 4-H and FFA activities.

Noting that no boys were chosen this year to be outstanding 4-H and FFA recipient, Rick Kauffman, 4-H extension agent, said it was a very difficult decision to select the outstanding members, because so many youth deserve recognition for their efforts.

Amy Eshelman, 18, daughter of Larry and Susan Eshelman, Sinkling Spring R.D. 6, and Valerie Hunter, 18, daughter of Patricia and Leon Hunter of Fleetwood, were named outstanding 4-Hers. Both have been 4-H members for 11 years.

Amy, who also is the Pennsylvania Lamb and Wool Queen, has had ongoing projects in sheep, beef, clothing, bee keeping and veterinary science. She has served as a teen leader in the sheep and beef clubs for six years and has served in all possible offices at the club level.

Amy was awarded the opportunity to attend the National 4-H Congress in Chicago this year as the state winner in the sheep program.

She is active in the Gov. Mifflin High School band, and she is attending The Pennsylvania State University studying pre-veterinary science.

In thanking the gathering, Amy thanked her parents for their constant support. She also encouraged young people to get into 4-H.

Valerie Hunter, a sophomore at Cornell University where she is studying horticulture, could not attend the banquet, but sent a note of thanks, which her father read on her behalf.

Valerie's 4-H career encompassed projects in swine, sheep, horses, clothing, foods and vegetable growing. She served as a teen leader in sheep, swine and Fleetwood 4-H clubs for seven years and has served in all possible offices at the club level.

She received the Kiwanis Club Outstanding 4-Her Award in 1989. She was active in the Oley Valley High School band and was an exchange student in Germany.

Wendy Jesiolowski, 18, of Oley, was named one of two outstanding FFA members. with little public support, coupled with the overwhelming support of the American people for this war, that provided the biggest elements of combat power for the men and women of the Gulf forces.

standing FFA members.

Now a freshman at Delaware Valley College, Doylestown, where she is studying animal science, Wendy began in 1988 and got the Star Greenhand that year and Star Chapter Farmer award the next, said her vo-ag teacher, Jim Howe, in announcing her honor.

She was involved in numerous projects and contests throughout her high school FFA career and held three different offices, including chapter vice president and county vice president.

"They always say your Keystone degree is the highest award you can get in the county, but I think this is," she said after accepting the award.

In announcing Lorraine Gechter as the second FFA winner, Donald McNutt, ag teacher at Conrad Weiser High School where Lorraine graduated this year, said Lorraine began her FFA career as a quiet ninth grader.

She was still a quiet senior, "until you got her behind a podium," McNutt said. In public speaking competitions, Lorraine blossomed, he said, making it to the state extemporaneous speaking contest.

She also had projects raising pygmy goats, dairy goats and Vietnamese potbellied pigs. These three enterprises won her the FFA State Gold Proficiency Award in Specialty Animal Production.

PennAg Banquet

"We caused fewer civilian casualties than any other conflict that has ever been fought in the history of the world," he said. There were about 148 Americans killed in the war fighting one million Iraqis — and the small number is "miraculous — that's unheard of, ever," he said. About 542,000 Americans were sent to the Gulf, and Kelly said the press "owes an apology to the American people for the way they handled reporting on the military before the war."

According to Kelly, he pointed out some of the fine qualities of the military and how their organization, training, and technological expertise won the war.

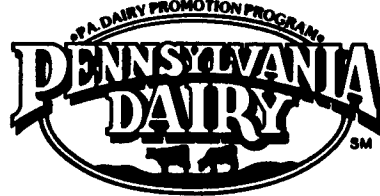

He told the attendees of the convention, "You are fundamental and basic to the United States of America. You produce the food that our people eat, and I know you know this, but Americans spend about 12 percent of their income on food, which is vastly lower than any other country on earth. You're in a fundamental industry in a country, probably the fundamental industry in the country. I represent the fundamental industry . . . that's been able to contribute to keeping us all free for 217 years."

Also at the banquet, Andy Andrews, Lancaster Farming

Lt. General Thomas W. Kelly, reporter, was presented with the PennAg Industries Association Journalist of the Year Award by David Brubaker, executive vice president of PennAg. Also, Jack Dreibelbis, PennAg member, was presented with a special appreciation award from PennAg's president, Edwin A. Rhoads.

During the three-day convention, which began Sunday, there were various meetings and seminars, including a marketing management seminar by R. Kingman Webster, independent consultant, and a presentation by David A. Bossman, president of the American Feed Industry Association.

VALUE ANALYSIS:

These results from 1991 Penn State Yield Trials indicate that for a 50-acre alfalfa grower there can be as much as $27,600 difference using a public variety and as much as $24,800 using a leading competitive variety over the 4 yr. life of that alfalfa stand.

Lyndon and Lisa Reiff swept up the sheep show championships at the Solanco Fair with Lyndon showing Frank and Lisa showing Tweedle Dum. The brother and sister also claimed the champion and reserve placings in both fitting and showmanship classes.

Reiffs Sweep Sheep Trophys At Solanco

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff
QUARRYVILLE (Lancaster Co.) — "It's the notorious Frank who won the championship for us this time," Lyndon Reiff said. Frank, the overall grand champion of the Solanco Fair Sheep Show, made it easy for Reiff to appear to be first in showmanship, but Judge Jim Black from Elton, Maryland, said, "I would have liked to see that sheep make Reiff work a bit harder. It sets itself up all by itself."

Reiff agreed. "Frank's a big baby," Reiff said of the docile sheep. "As far as Frank is concerned, he's the only sheep out there, and he immediately stands in the right position."

Because the sheep is so laid back, Lyndon said, "It takes a lot of hard work to get him in shape. He had some weight to lose and needed to develop some more muscling."

Frank turned out to be a winner not only at the Solanco Fair but also at a Jackpot competition last week.

Reiff's sister, 14-year-old Lisa, took the reserve champion overall and was named tops in showmanship with her sheep Tweedle Dum. The Reiffs are consistent winners in county sheep shows and 18-year-old Lyndon has won the championship placing at Solanco Fair for four consecutive years.

The Reiffs had little competition at the show where 25 sheep competed. Between the Strasburg brother and sister, they took champion placings in fitting, lightweight, middleweight, heavyweight, lightweight pair, heavyweight pair, and champion pair classes.

Except for reserve in the middleweight class and first in the middleweight pair, the Reiffs took reserve placings also.

New Greenhouse Liner

prevent run-off, but it also allows the water to be reused, and a whole new way of growing plants can be introduced with the system. Called sub-irrigation, with the liner in place, the bench with potted plants in place is filled from one end. The plants receive their water through saturation from the bottom. This gives you a more uniform crop, reduces costs, especially in labor, and of course, the water is drained out of the other end of the bench and reused. This allows even the smallest grower to retro fit any existing growing table inexpensively.

At Hellberg's, a bench built of concrete in the 1930's and filled with soil to grow carnations is now used for potted plants to raise cuttings for wholesale to flower shops and garden centers and other retail outlets. The bench is 150 ft. long, 4 ft. wide and 6 ft. deep. To form-fit this large bench costs only $300, in comparison to several thousand dollars that would be needed to accomplish the same results as any other product on the market.

"By any other means, you are looking at several thousand dollars to bring the benches into a no run-off situation," Muraco said. "The average rolling table in a Dutch greenhouse may be 6 ft. by 16 ft. At the retail cost of 50 cents per sq. ft. that would be about $35 to $40. As you can see, even the smallest producer, and we have many small producers in the greenhouse business, can afford these liners."

Fred Hellberg, owner, said he and his wife purchased George K. Groff, Inc., and the greenhouses in 1956. They grew carnations until 15 years ago when foreign competition beat out the local growers. In the last years, Hellbergs have raised poinsettias and geraniums for the wholesale market.

The Loudon Liners will be distributed through the Groff distribution channels. Robert Vanerwende is the director of marketing.

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK
SEPTEMBER 20-26, 1992

According to the National Safety Council, agricultural work accidents resulted in 1300 deaths and 120,000 disabling injuries in 1990. The accident death rate in agriculture was 42 per 100,000 workers, among the highest for all industries. While on the farm it's important to protect yourself at all times and to avoid accidents by working with caution. Take time this week to look around your farm to see where safety precautions could be improved, it may be the smartest move you make this fall.

Workshops Teach Sewing Skills For Crafts, Clothing

LOU ANN GOOD

Lancaster Farming Staff
LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.)

— How often have you admired an intricately pieced wallhanging or a tailored suit and declared, "I could never make that."

"You can if you take a workshop at the Lancaster Extension office," said Donna Lucidi-Nachwostach, a former home economist who has been teaching workshops at the Extension for 10 years. "Many people don't realize how many different workshops are offered through the Extension and how much they can learn."

Lucidi-Nachwostach is best known for teaching pieced quilts and wallhangings. Participants in her classes learn color placement, and the speed method of cutting and quilting as well as traditional quilting.

Another Extension workshop teacher is Mary Alice Fyock, an accomplished seamstress in tailoring as well as sewing crafts. She offers workshops for both beginners and experienced seamstresses in custom fitting, tailoring, serging, and gift making.

The workshops listed on this page are held at the Lancaster County Cooperative Extension Office, 1383 Arcadia Rd., Lancaster. A variety of workshops are offered by Extension offices in other counties. Contact your local Extension Office for a complete listing of workshops offered. Addresses and telephone numbers for county Extension offices are listed in telephone directories under Penn State Cooperative Extension.

To enroll in one of the workshops described in this article, send your name, address, phone number and the workshop or meeting you plan to attend with your check or money order made payable to Agricultural Extension, 1383 Arcadia Road, Lancaster, PA 17601. No registration will be accepted without payment.

Registration deadline is one full week before the meeting or the first of a series of workshops. Registration will be accepted on a first come basis. Unless you hear from the Extension, go to the meeting or the first class scheduled for the machine and learn the basic maintenance procedures, including tension and pressure adjustment.

Participants are requested to bring the following items to class: sewing machine, sewing machine oil, tweezers, brush for cleaning machine parts, screwdrivers (The tiny ones which came with your machine, and one medium size), threaded bobbin, spool of thread and small piece of scrap fabric to test thread tension, and your user manual. Class Limit: 15. Instructor: Donna Lucidi-Nachwostach. Cost: $8.00. Workshop #1- 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. on October 5.

(Turn to Page B3)

Frustrated with a sewing project that you can't figure out? Mary Alice Fyock offers Sewing S.O.S. for those who have an unfinished project. If you have a question about fitting, about how to remedy a sewing mistake or how to put the garment together, bring the question and problem to class and find a solution. This is your chance for one-on-one instruction to get that project finished. Cost is $8 for Workshop #15 held December 2, from 7:00-9:00 p.m., and Workshop #16 held on December 3, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

A fun and easy project for beginners or experienced sewers is this strip-pieced table runner, which measures 17x44-inches. The design is adapted to placemats and pot holders. Register for Workshop #3, taught by Donna Lucidi-Nachwostach on November 4, 6:30-9:30 p.m. and November 11, from 7:00-9:00 p.m. Cost is $20.

workshop in which you are enrolled. Call the Extension office (717) 394-6851 if you are unable to attend a class.

Sewing Machine Maintenance

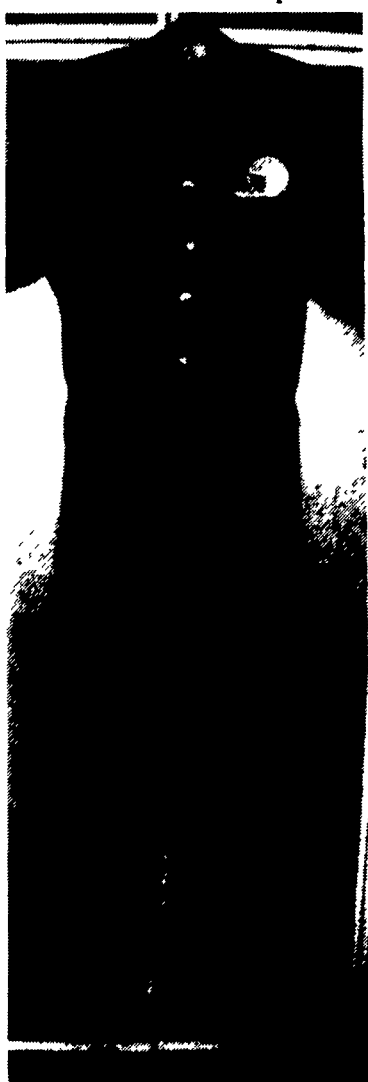

•When was the last time you serviced your machine, as recommended in the owner's manual? Sewing machines are sensitive to accumulations of lint, dust and thread pieces which collect in the moving parts of the machine. Lack of proper oiling and lubricating can also interfere with optimum machine performance. If your machine starts sluggishly, is noisy, makes loose or skipped stitches, maybe it's time for a thorough cleaning. Why not bring in your

Work with color placement and learn quick-piecing techniques to stitch a miniature Jacob's Elevator, left. The quilt, which Donna Lucidi-Nachwostach is holding, is made with larger-in square blocks to provide visual impact. This class is suitable for beginners as participants learn tricks for quick cutting and piecing of four patches, Flying Geese, and Puss-in-the-Corner units. Cost is $28 for Workshop #3 scheduled for November 23, from 7-9:00 p.m. and December 5, from 10 a.m.-3:00 p.m.

Gifts for the Holiday Workshop demonstrates ideas for handmade gift giving such as these placemats and purses. Mary Alice Fyock will teach Workshop #13 on November 4, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. and Workshop #14 on November 5, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

This jumpsuit shows the creative use of using a serger for piping, lettuce leafing, applying elastic, etc. There will be samples to inspire and copy. For this workshop, Serging Ahead, you must be able to thread and make simple tension adjustments on the serger machine. Mary Alice Fyock teaches Workshop #19 on November 11, from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m., and Workshop #20 on November 12, from 9:00 a.m. to noon.

Mary Alice Fyock will teach you to make this versatile sewing grainboard that is one of the favorite pieces of equipment for sewers and home crafters. If you wish your ironing board was wider and things didn't slip off or wished for a cutting surface that didn't allow fabric to slip and slide, consider investing in a grainboard. In this four-hour class, you will construct a padded gridded board, which makes straightening, cutting, pressing, and tailoring faster and easier. Supplies cost between $30 to $40. Cost for Workshop #8, held October 24, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., is $16.

• Custom Fit For The Changing Figure - As we get older, our figures change and about 96% of all women need to alter a pattern before sewing it! This class is designed to teach you how to get a better fit in problem areas such as a full tummy, rounded shoulders, forward arms and head, dropped buttocks, etc. You will be making a dress or a blouse and skirt of your choice. This is a fitting class so we will not be focusing on sewing skills but rather on adjusting the pattern to fit you. You will have a wearable garment at the end of the class rather than a fitting shell. For the first class, wear suitable garments for measuring and bring a tape measure, a narrow piece of elastic and a pencil. Instructor: Mary Alice Fyock. Cost: $48.00. Workshop #6: 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. on October 20, 27, November 3, 10, 17 and 24.

• Tips, Tips and More Tips - You've asked for this class, so here it is! For two hours I will demonstrate and show some of the tips I've learned or created over the years to improve and compliment my sewing skills. Chicken Cooking Deadline Near

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The deadline for entering the 40th National Chicken Cooking Contest is approaching.

All chicken recipes to compete for the $25,000 first prize must be postmarked no later than October 15.

Fifty-one finalists — one from each state and the District of Columbia — will each receive an expense-paid trip to take part in the Cookoff next May in Richmond, Virginia. In addition to the top prize awarded the chicken cooking champion, four other finalists will share another $11,000 in prizes.

It's easy to enter. Just write name, address and telephone number on the front of each recipe submitted. Mail before October 15 to: Chicken Contest, Box 28158 Central Station, Washington, DC 20005.

That chicken dish you're serving your family tonight could be a winner. Or one you save for special occasions. It should serve four Workshop #21- 7:00 - 9:00 p.m. on October 13.

• Finding "Quality Time" For Your Family - Are you disappointed when family "quality time" is sabotaged by rushed schedules, unexpected events, disappointing moments or expectations for family fun that could never be met? You are not alone! This workshop will address ways for you to find more time for your family and will explore your perceptions of what "quality" family time means to you. Ideas for family time activities will also be shared. We will see that the "perfect" family moments are often disguised in the simplest dress! Instructor: Debra Naumann. to eight people and must be original (not previously published in the same or substantially the same form).

Recipes will be judged on four basic points — taste, appearance, simplicity and appeal. Finalists will be announced in January.

Winning recipes will be included in a new edition of The Chicken Cookbook, which will be introduced at the Cookoff. To receive a copy of the cookbook with recipes from the 39th Contest and other delicious ways to serve chicken, send $1.75 (check or money order; not cash) to: Chicken Cookbook, Department NBC, Box 307, Coventry, CT 06238.

What makes a chicken recipe a winner? In the 39th National Chicken Cooking Contest held last year in Little Rock, AR, judges had a difficult time selecting the five best recipes from among the 51 finalists. Each of these was already a winner, chosen the best from each of the 50 states and the District of Columbia.

Here's a recipe that wasn't among the five top money-winners at the Cookoff but one that scored high with judges. Try it and then enter your favorite chicken recipe in the 40th National Chicken Cooking Contest. Deadline for entries is October 15.

On being a farm wife - And other hazards

Joyce Bupp

Like everything else this summer, it's running a little behind schedule.

But the goldenrod has finally ripened, coloring roadsides, fencerows, and forgotten corners with bright yellow accents.

The blooms seem extra heavy this year, bending slender stalks beneath their fullness. Or perhaps their weight is from the abundant moisture of recent days, clinging to the thousands of tiny, star-like florets that together form the familiar weed bloom.

Weed or not, goldenrod is a welcome decorative plant that tells the onset of Autumn. The only clump I could find close to the house grows atop the steep, 10-foot high bank just up the road. Grasping clumps of other road-bank growth and shoving toe-holds in the damp soil, I snapped off enough stalks to fill a favorite stoneware crock.

A couple of hearty, volunteer cockscomb plants that popped up in the vegetable patch are filled with feathery blooms of brilliant burgundy hue. Several of those deep-shaded blooms tucked in with the goldenrod make a kitchen hutch arrangement that almost shouts "Fall is here!"

But most of the signs are far less obvious. Lawn grass remains as thick and lush as in May, without that usual late-summer scruffiness. And green has lingered in the cornfields and soybean plantings longer than usual. Stretches of cool, damp, cloudy days held down the degree days needed for these warm-weather lovers to mature and begin drying down on their normal schedule.

Thriving regardless of the weather is the foxtail grass that year after year gleefully threatens to smother the late-season garden. This aggressive, indestructible, and uninvited stuff thrives in damp or drought. It pokes runners up through the tiniest holes in the black-plastic mulch, overruns the fading row of string beans and stalks the asparagus patch.

Grass invasion is worst in the outer perimeters, where the finches have already snatched most of the ripening sunflower seeds and vine crops try to mature. In desperation, the lawn mower is run through part of the thick tangle with the blade cranked high, shredding grass and weeds to expose mini-pumpkin gourds. Some, from the continuing dampness, already have small rotting spots where they rested against the wet ground.

A little farther along, unearthed by hand and with a little more care, three neck pumpkins appear, yield of seeds I'd forgotten had ever been planted. And under another lush corner of weedy growth turns up two of the biggest "fruits" the garden has ever produced - foot-diameter birdhouse gourds grown from seeds shared by a special friend.

Tomatoes linger in the fading garden, tail-enders to the bumper output of August. Though I grumbled through mid-July that it was taking them forever to ripen, the bulk of the crop all reddened up in a period of a couple of weeks.

"Canning tomatoes again?" The Farmer would grin, arriving for lunch amid kettles of tangy, bubbling red sauce. They share shelves with applesauce and applebutter, peach and strawberry jams, and grape juice left from last year.

While the tiny planting of grapes dangles purplish clusters, we may have to be satisfied with the remnants of last year's harvest. Our first-ever resident catbird seems to have claimed squatter rights to the grapes, devouring them direct from the clusters even before they've fully ripened.

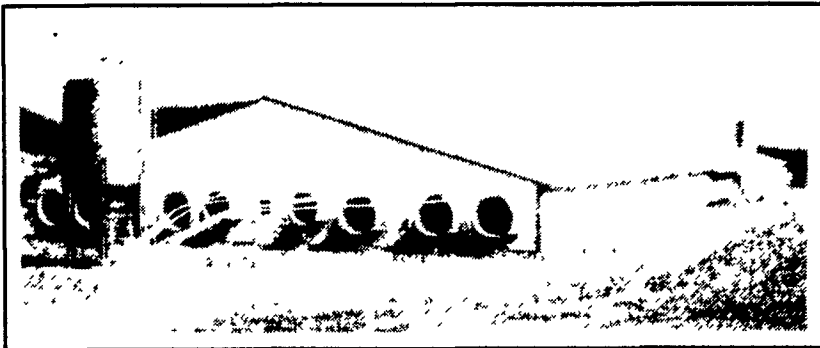

The catbird can thank Grace for the feast. Grace, a cow that slipped and hurt her leg, nibbled off the rest of the vining cover as we let her roam out on the lawn for therapy-exercise. Her leg has healed so well she took to sneaking into the old barn to snatch calf feed.

And as the end of a season draws near that has produced far more abundantly than the prior one, we gladly sacrifice a little grapevine production to feed a catbird and help heal a limping cow.

One less thing I have to wade through weeds to find.

If she wanted a chocolate cake, she would add chocolate until the batter was as dark as she desired. We never had icing on the cake and all her grandchildren and great-grandchildren ate it that way. I always looked forward to eating this cake and Ox Tail Rivel Soup at her home.

On September 19, at 6:30 p.m., dairy princesses from 33 different counties will compete for the state title. The 36th pageant will be held at Sheraton Harrisburg East. Regardless of who wins the state title, all the princesses do a superb job of promoting the dairy industry in their respective counties.

One of the ways, the dairy princesses promote the industry is by handing out recipes using dairy products. Here are two you might enjoy. Cumberland County Dairy Princess Heidi Negley sent a recipe for Orange Sour Cream Salad and Erie County Dairy Princess Brandie Jo Behringer shares a recipe for Frosty Apple Cow.

ORANGE SOUR CREAM SALAD

2 small packages orange gelatin
1 1/2 cups boiling water
2 cups undrained crushed pineapple
1 small can mandarin oranges
1 cup sour cream

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add all fruit immediately. Mix well and pour half of mixture into mold and refrigerate until very firm. When set, spread sour cream over molded half. Then, pour half of remaining mixture over this and refrigerate until firm. Unmold and serve.

FROSTY APPLE COW

2 cups cold milk
2 cups vanilla ice cream, softened
6 ounces frozen concentrated apple juice
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

Place all ingredients in blender container, cover. Blend until smooth and frothy, serve immediately in tall chilled glasses. This recipe can be used with any flavor of juice.

Microwave Ground Beef For Quick Meals

Ground beef and the microwave: the perfect equation for economical, quick family meals!

Microwave "Oh!" Burgers and Microwave Tamale-Style Pie are microwave dishes that are both easy to make and great tasting.

The basis of both of these family-pleasing dishes is versatile ground beef. When choosing fresh ground beef, look for a bright cherry-red color in a package that is cold, hasn't been torn or punctured, and is tightly wrapped.

The special shape of Microwave "Oh!" Burgers will bring out an "oh!" from those who recognize an old favorite with a zippy new look. Ground beef is gently shaped into flat "donuts" to ensure even cooking in the microwave. For a change of pace serve burgers on onion or garlic bagels instead of the traditional burger buns.

Microwave Tamale-Style Pie is reminiscent of the popular Mexican tamale. A microwave-safe colander or sieve is a convenient tool for cooking the beef crumbles and draining the fat for this dish. The beef, onion and garlic mixture is simply combined with a hearty dash of southwestern spices, tomatoes and refried beans, then microwaved to heat through.

MICROWAVE

"OH!" BURGERS

Preparation time: 15 minutes
Cooking Time: 3½ to 4 minutes
1 pound ground beef (80 percent lean)

1 teaspoon Seasoning Mix*
4 hamburger buns, split
Assorted toppings (Tomato slices, onion slices and lettuce)

Shape ground beef into four ½-inch thick patties. Form a ¾-inch hole in center of each patty. Place patties on microwave-safe roasting rack in baking dish. Sprinkle each patty lightly with Seasoning Mix. Cover with waxed paper. Microwave on HIGH 3½ to 4 minutes, rotating dish ½ turn after 2 minutes. Let stand, covered, 1 minute. Place burgers on hamburger bun bottoms; top each with desired toppings. Cover with hamburger bun tops. 4 servings.

*Seasoning Mix: Combine 1 tablespoon garlic salt, 2 teaspoons each flour and black pepper, and 1¼ teaspoons paprika in a shaker.

For 2 servings: Divide 8 ounces ground beef (80 percent lean) into 2 equal portions. Follow recipe as directed above using ½ teaspoon Seasoning Mix and 2 hamburger buns. Microwave at HIGH 2½ to 3 minutes. Let stand 1 minute. Proceed as directed above.

Note: Recipe was tested in 650-watt microwave oven. If your oven has a different wattage adjust times accordingly.

MICROWAVE

TAMALE-STYLE PIE

Preparation time: 15 minutes
Cooking time: 10 to 12 minutes
1 pound ground beef (80 percent lean)
½ cup chopped onion

1 clove garlic, minced
2 teaspoons chili powder
¼ teaspoon each ground cumin and salt
1 can (10 ounces) diced tomatoes with green chilies, drained*
1 can (8 to 8½ ounces) refried beans
½ cup (2 ounces) shredded Cheddar cheese
1 cup coarsely crushed unsalted corn tortilla chips

Combine ground beef, onion and garlic; arrange in a ring in a microwave-safe sieve or small colander. Place sieve in 9-inch round microwave-safe baking dish and microwave on HIGH 3 minutes; stir to break up beef. Continue cooking on HIGH 1 to 2 minutes or until beef is only slightly pink. Pour off drippings. Place beef in baking dish; sprinkle chili powder, cumin and salt over beef, stirring to combine. Stir in tomatoes and refried beans; cover with waxed paper. Microwave on HIGH 6 to 7 minutes or until hot, rotating dish ½ turn after 4 minutes. Sprinkle cheese and tortilla chips around edge. Let stand 2 minutes. 4 servings.

½ pound sharp cheese
½ pound long horn cheese
1½ cups milk
2 cups bread crumbs
¼ cup butter
¼ pound Velveeta cheese
2 tablespoons flour
For the cheese sauce, cook Velveeta cheese over low heat, add milk. Add pinch of salt and pepper, butter, and flour.

Using a large baking dish, add the cheese sauce to the cooked shells. Cut ¼ pound of Long Horn cheese and ¼ pound of the sharp cheese into small chunks; add to the cooked shells and cheese sauce.

poons of raspberry jam and a little butter. Boil mixture until syrupy. Also, thanks to Audrey Minns, Geneva, NY, for sending the following recipes.

Strawberry Or Raspberry Syrup

In a blender or food processor whirl washed and hulled berries into a puree. Pour the puree into a pot and heat slightly to bring out all the juices. Filter the puree through any of the following devices for several hours or overnight: a jelly bag, a coffee cone paper filter, a large funnel or strainer lined with muslin. In a pot, add ¾ cup sugar to each cup of filtered juice. Heat and stir thoroughly to dissolve the sugar, but try not to let it boil. Cool to room temperature before pouring the syrup into bottles. Refrigerate.

Blueberry Syrup

Wash and stem 2 heaping cups of blueberries. Pour them into a pot along with ¼ cup water and ½ cup sugar. Bring to a boil; reduce heat to a simmer. Crush berries with a potato masher. Simmer 10 minutes; stir and crush. Filter the syrup through a cheesecloth lined sieve. Add 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice. Cool to room temperature; refrigerate.

Orange Syrup

Vigorously boil 1 cup fresh, strained orange juice with 2 cups sugar for 1 full minute. Add 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice. Cool to room temperature before refrigerating.

Peach Or Apricot Syrup

Pit and cut into chunks enough unpeeled peaches or apricots to make 2½ to 3 cups. Place them in a pot along with ½ cup boiling water and simmer until soft. Cool slightly and puree along with the cooking water in a blender or food processor. Strain the puree to remove skins. Return the puree to its cooking pot and stir in 2 cups sugar and 1½ tablespoons fresh lemon juice. Boil rapidly for 5 minutes; skim off scum. Cool to room temperature before refrigerating.

Quick Breakfast Syrup

½ cup any flavor of jam, preserves or jelly
3 or 4 tablespoons honey
½ teaspoon fresh lemon juice
Dash nutmeg or cinnamon, optional
Melt the jam, preserves, or jelly over low heat in a small saucepan; stir continuously. When the jam is liquified, stir in honey and lemon juice; heat thoroughly. Add dash of nutmeg to blueberry, peach or apricot flavor and a dash of cinnamon to apple or cherry, if desired. Serve warm over pancakes, waffles or French toast.

ADC Meets Farmers' Needs

More Than $124 Million in Extra Payments

"At Atlantic Dairy Cooperative, our mission is to maximize returns to members. In the past five years, we returned more than $124 million to members in equity payments, over-order premiums and quality bonuses. That's an average of $35,500 per member. And these extra dollars are continuing at the rate of $1.5 million a month.

"When non-members ask me why they should belong to Atlantic Dairy Cooperative, I am happy to report that we are financially healthy, strong in membership and growing in sales. ADC is the region's largest and most fiscally-sound cooperative, with a guaranteed market and outstanding benefits.

"More dairy farmers joined us last year than at any time in the past decade. If you are not an ADC shipper and are worried about your own milk market, then you should talk to the cooperative that is facing the future with confidence."

Home Alone? Ideas For After-School Snacks

Althea Zanecosky, R.D.
Dairy Council, Inc.
Southampton, PA
SOUTHAMPTON (Bucks Co.)

— From front door to refrigerator door. Your favorite after school pastime is snacking! But if a grownup isn't home to fix food for you, what's a hungry kid to do?

You're not alone - for there's over 7 million kids by themselves or with a brother or sister at home after school. Let's take a crash course in safe and nutritious snacking to get you through each afternoon.

When you get home, remember the following: Put books and backpacks on your desk or on the floor, not on kitchen tables and countertops; throw away any leftover sandwiches (or other foods that should be cold) that came home with you; wash your hands and always use clean plates and utensils; wash fruits and vegetables. Don't eat any food that looks or smells bad; try to put cold items — like milk, yogurt, lunch meats and cheese — back in the refrigerator as soon as you're done with them.

For safe microwaving, think about these: Don't turn on an empty oven; this will cause it to break; read the package directions carefully. Practice before with someone who knows how to use the microwave controls; use only microwave-safe containers to cook in; use pot holders to take food out of the microwave. If you can't reach the microwave without help, don't use it!; after cooking, if the container is sealed or the dish is covered with plastic wrap, open one corner to let the steam out. Open or pull the plastic away from hands and face - steam can burn!

Some microwave food tips: Pierce hot dogs and potatoes so they don't explode; break open heated donuts and pastries before eating; they can burn your mouth; let popcorn cool for a few minutes before opening.

Some great snack ideas: hard cooked eggs; leftover salad, pizza, spaghetti; cheese and crackers; cereal and milk - with fruit; bagels or English muffins - plain or as a mini pizza; apple sandwiches - slices of apple with peanut butter or cheese between; popcorn - and for a change, try parmesan cheese on top; pre-cut veggies, fresh or dried fruit; yogurt — flavored, with fruit, or frozen; nuts, seeds, pretzels, trail mix; soup; waffles or pancakes; baked potato — with a new topping of cheese and broccoli or chili; milkshakes — may be with fruit or peanut butter.

Snacks are a great way to refuel. Just remember to snack smart - choose foods from different food groups (milk, meat, fruit, vegetable, bread) and practice important kitchen safety rules.

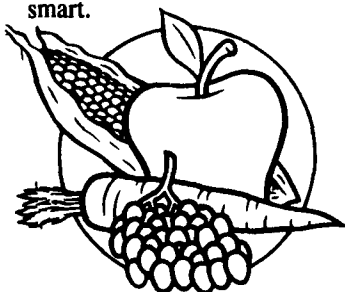

Meat and Meat Alternatives	Milk and Dairy Products	Breads and Cereals	Fruits and Vegetables
Lean red meats like beef, veal, pork, and lamb. Chicken, fish, eggs and peanut butter.	Including milk, cheese, yogurt, and cottage cheese.	Foods such as bread, noodles, rice and cereal.	Fruits, fruit juices, cooked or raw vegetables. Examples: orange juice, applesauce and carrot sticks.

The Four Food Groups

Have you ever heard the expression "You are what you eat?" It's true! Your body is made up of trillions of tiny cells. Everytime you take a bite of food, you're giving these cells fuel to run on. You see, food contains nutrients...about 50 different ones. And all these nutrients are important to keep you strong and healthy. How can you be sure you're getting all the right ones?

That's where the the Four Food Groups come in. The Four Food Groups contain all the nutrients you need. The trick is to keep your diet balanced by eating a variety of foods from each group everyday.

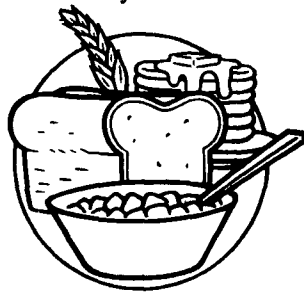

Some foods — like ice cream, candy, pudding, pretzels, and cookies — don't fit into the Four Food Groups. It's okay to eat them in moderate amounts, but think of them as an addition to the Four Food Groups, not a replacement. Remember: you are what you eat...so eat smart.

SNICKERDOODLES

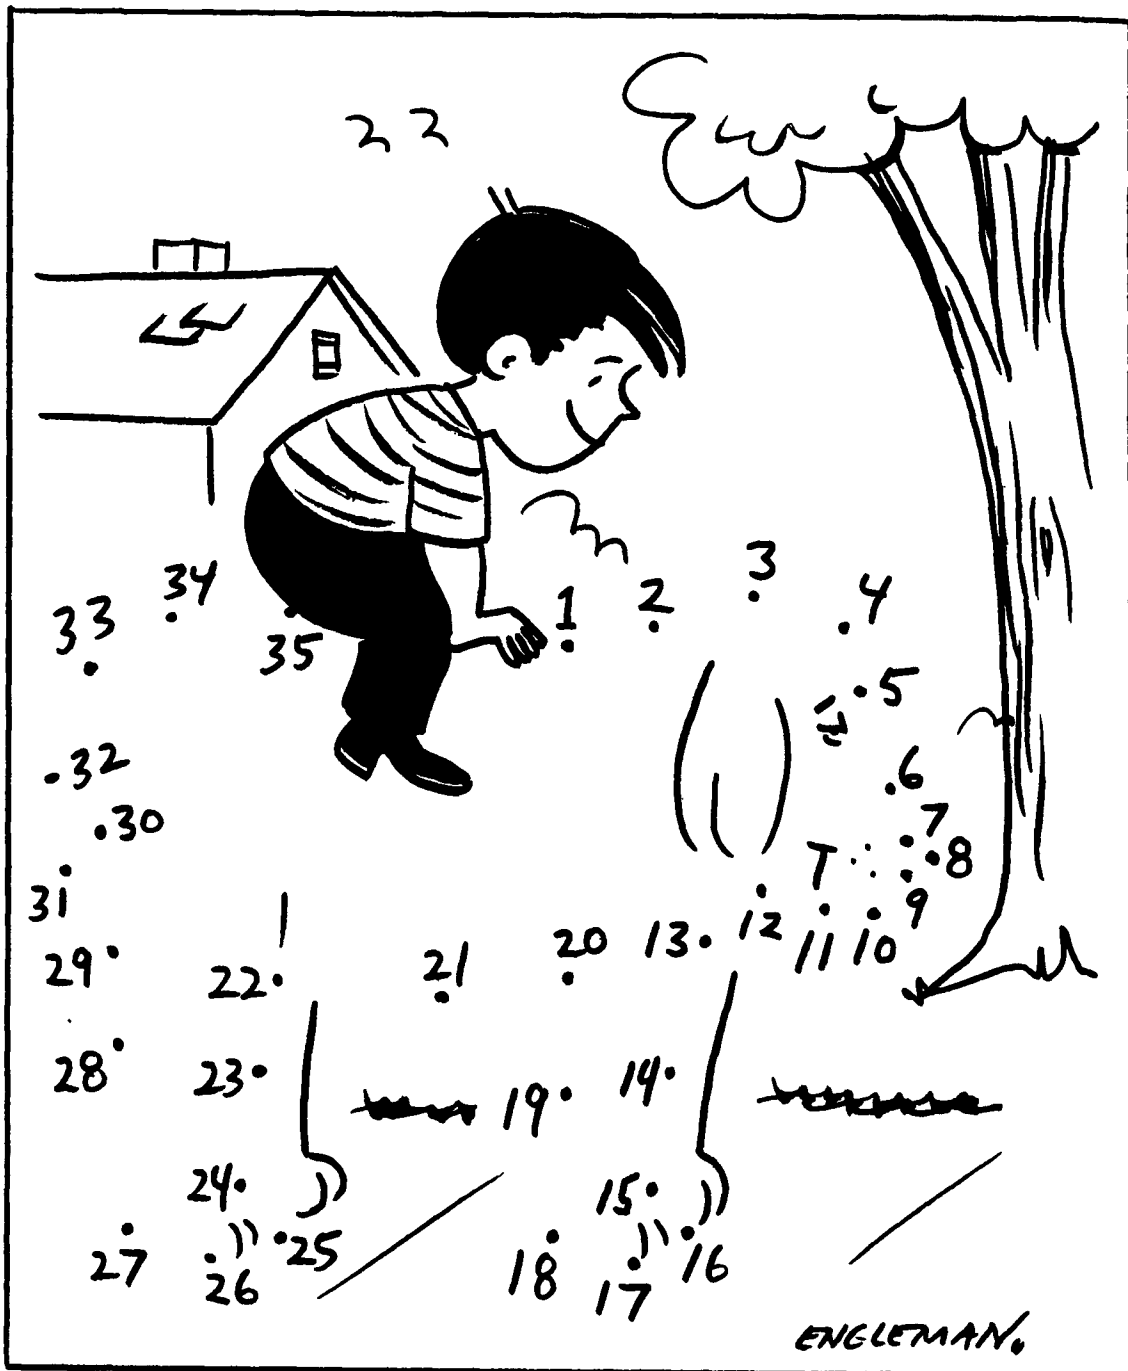

(Sorry, kids. The recipe on the Kid's Page in the September 12th issue on B10 was wrong. Here is the correct recipe).

- 1 cup shortening
- 1½ cups sugar
- 2½ cups flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 2 eggs
- 2 teaspoons cream of tartar
- ¼ teaspoon salt

Mix shortening, sugar, and eggs. Add remaining ingredients. Roll dough into balls the size of small walnuts. Roll into the following mixture:

- 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- Place 2 inches apart on ungreased baking sheet. Bake at 400 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned but soft. Makes 5 dozen 2-inch cookies.

Personalized Books Encourage Children To Read

LOU ANN GOOD

Lancaster Farming Staff
DENVER (Lancaster Co.) —

When David Leininger of Denver graduated from Delaware Valley College with a degree in animal husbandry, he returned to the family farm, Ko Ka Le Ko Egg Ranch. After Avian Influenza infiltrated county flocks, the family decided to shut down the egg ranch. By that time, David had learned "about everything there was to know about wiring electricity. I got all the equipment in top running condition," he said, "but I didn't know much about electronics."

He had a keen interest in electronics since a consuming hobby of his was recording. Eventually, he built a studio and went into full-time recording and amplification.

When he received a $200 bill for a recorder repair, Leininger decided to study electronics at Harrisburg Community College, four nights a week.

At 40 years of age, Leininger was the oldest student in the class. By the end of the first semester, Leininger said that all the 19 to 20-year-olds had dropped out of class. By the end of the third semester anyone younger than 26 years old had dropped out.

"They couldn't read," Leininger said. "Everything is based on reading. If you can't read, you can't become successful at anything," Leininger said.

By the time graduation rolled around, Leininger was at the top of his class. It was then, that he decided to use his electronics background to market a community-sponsored Learn To Read Program.

"Too many children are not reading today because they aren't motivated," he said.

The key to motivation, Leininger believes, is to personalize stories. With his computer, Leininger inserts a child's name and the names of their friends into a story. Each book is in full color and hard bound with a plastic protective coating.

"Children like to hear stories about themselves. Theoretically a child will beg his or her parents to read the book and be motivated to learn to read it by themselves," Leininger said.

Leininger is trying to interest businesses, civic organizations, and individuals into providing personalized books to each child enrolled in selected daycare centers, pre-schools, and in grades K-2 in the public schools.

"The personalized books create reading interest, a sense of identity and a lifetime keepsake," Lein-

Seminar On Adolescent Self-Esteem

READING (Berks Co.) — A one-evening workshop, "Instilling Self Esteem" is being offered by Penn State Extension on October 22 at the Berks County Extension Office. The program begins at 7:00 p.m. and will run until 9:00 p.m. Preregistration for the meeting is $2 per person ($3 per couple). For more information, call Penn State Cooperative Extension of Berks County at 215-378-1327.

The program will highlight the importance of building up self-esteem in adolescent children. Parents play the largest role in how an adolescent will respect and value his or her place in society. A teenage who thinks of his or herself as valuable and important is better equipped to face the negative peerpressure at school and social settings. Instilling a healthy self-image in their adolescents is one of the most crucial things a parent can do for their child.

Emphasis will be placed on specific ways parents can help build self-esteem, which factors in each home that may tear down self-esteem, and the changes of low self-esteem and how it effects the development of the adolescent into adulthood.

One standard of quality

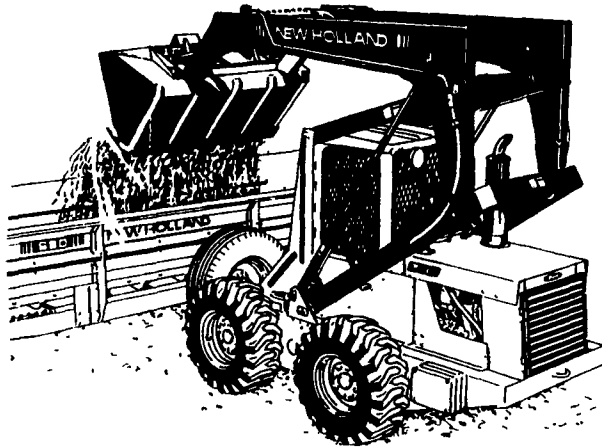

#1 in the field

Total performance for big crop harvesting

You get total performance when you harvest your crops with a Model 900 forage harvester. Total performance begins at the cutterhead. The 12 knives of the 21-inch cutterhead give you uniformly cut, high-quality forage. Other features on the "900" include:

- Metalert II® electronic metal detector (optional)-protects cutterhead and your valuable animals.
- Electromagnetic clutches—give instant response in controlling feedroll and attachment drives.
- Easy-adjust shearbar—makes adjustment fast and precise

Load... unload faster and easier

When you're working the big loads you need the Super Boom advantage — extra reach.

With more forward dump reach you can center load your largest spreader from one side so you get an even load. The result: faster loading, fuller loads and easier unloading.

With level bucket lift you load more and lift higher... with less spillback. And, with a longer wheelbase there's more stability and safety. So, why get stuck with anything else?

Find out just how good a skid-steer loader can be.

First in durability

Surveys show owners rate New Holland grinder-mixers as the most durable. That's because Ford New Holland builds them right and backs them with quality parts and service. The Model 358 has a 125-bushel tank that's specially designed to eliminate bridging. An optional electronic scale assures accurate control of rations. Stop in and see the durable Model 358 grinder-mixer.

Forage Blower

Every minute you can save at the blower means more loads per day and more overall productivity. Let us demonstrate the New Holland Model 40 forage blower and we believe you'll agree you can increase your silage productivity.

The Model 40, with 20 percent greater tip speed than previous models, center fills silos over 80 feet high.

How To Discipline

READING (Berks Co.) — A one-evening workshop, "Discussing Discipline" is offered by Penn State Cooperative Extension on September 23 at the Berks County Extension Office. The program begins at 7:00 p.m. and will run until 9:00 p.m. Pre-registration for the meeting is $2 per person ($3 per couple). For more information, call Penn State Cooperative Extension of Berks County at 215-378-1327.

The program will look into the interest and concerns parents of school-age children have in the area of discipline. The manner in which a parent discusses problems with their elementary, junior or senior high child has a great effect on how the child will respond. Parents can greatly improve and enhance the quality of home-life by knowing their own discipline habits, and why their children respond as they do.

Specific topics discussion will include evaluating the types of disciplinarian parents, how to improve the effectiveness of rewards and punishments, and applying theoretical principles of discipline to practical, back-to-school topics such as TV watching, homework and bed time rules.

Have You Heard?

By Doris Thomas
Lancaster Extension
Home Economist

There are dinner pails and lunch buckets, lunch boxes and box lunches, designer bags, and plain brown paper bags, recycled margarine tubs and plastic totes with nests of smaller boxes shaped to hold a sandwich or a piece of cake.

No matter what the container, a mid-day meal brought from home has sustained generations of workers and school children. Today the practice of "brown bagging" has risen to new heights and taken on new dignity. Brown bags have, in a manner of speaking, come out of the briefcase and are appearing unashamedly on the desks of professionals and on board room tables during business lunches.

The lunch-box meal is often depicted by cartoonists as a limp meat or cheese sandwich and a thermos of soup or coffee taken ruefully from a black box with a high humped lid. What goes into the box or bag is limited only by the imagination of the person who prepares it and the likes and dislikes of the one who eats it. Packing a lunch at home can have a distinct advantage — no surprises, no excess sodium or unwanted calories — if the packer packs with good nutrition in mind.

Whether it comes out of a brown bag or a tin box, the noon meal should be nutritious. A good lunch should include selections from the basic four food groups:

- * A protein food such as meat, fish, cheese, eggs, nuts, dried beans, or the perennial favorite, peanut butter. Foods in this group supply fat, iron and other minerals, and some B vitamins, as well as protein.

- * A grain product — bread or crackers (preferably whole wheat) or cereals. Grain products provide B vitamins and iron.

- * A fruit or vegetable, preferably

ly one of each. Citrus fruits are good sources of vitamin C while deep green and yellow vegetables are excellent sources of vitamin A.

- * A dairy product such as milk, yogurt or cheese — all good sources of calcium.

The simplest way to put it all together is to make a sandwich with a meat, cheese or peanut butter filling and add an apple and some carrot sticks. This can be topped off with cookies for dessert and a beverage.

For some children, this may suffice for awhile. Some will insist on the same thing day after day. But eventually even the most lovingly made sandwiches can become a bore and may end up in the trash can.

It isn't hard to find ideas to liven up the lunch box. Many popular women's magazines carry articles with suggestions for nutritious lunches. Cookbooks have sandwich recipes that are not just for tea parties. Here are some ideas for nutritious lunches gleaned from some of these sources:

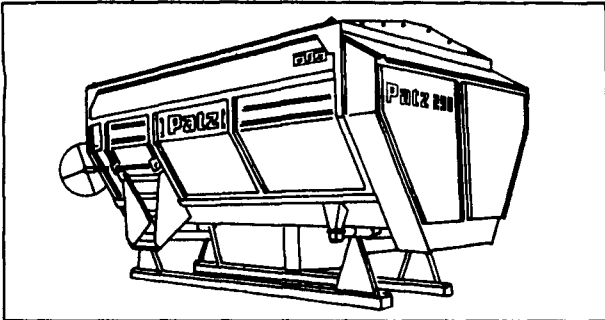

For sandwiches, try hard-cooked eggs, chopped and mixed with mayonnaise or salad dressing. Spice them up with chopped onion, celery, green pepper, crumbled bacon or bean sprouts.

Instead of using sliced cheese, grate it and mix it with salad dressing, chopped nuts, onion or crushed pineapple.

Left-over chicken, without the high-fat skin, can be sliced or chopped and mixed with mayonnaise or salad dressing and shredded raw vegetables.

Dress up plain old peanut butter with raisins, chopped nuts, bananas, apples, or pineapple, for a treat that is extra nutritious.

Protein does not have to come between two slices of bread. Chunks of cheese or ham, cottage cheese, a chicken leg or wing, chili or soup (in a wide-mouthed vacuum bottle) and peanut butter-filled celery stalks all will fill the bill. Instead of bread, try whole wheat crackers, homemade rolls or muffins, or pita bread filled with a favorite sandwich stuffing.

Raw vegetables — carrot or celery sticks, cauliflower or broccoli florets, cucumber slices, green pepper slices — are crisp and fun to eat, especially with a homemade dip.

For some people lunch would not be complete without dessert. While prepackaged puddings, fruit pies or cupcakes are convenient, they are notorious for their excessive calories. Fruits or yogurt can double for dessert.

Packing lunch requires some care, since it may be standing at room temperature for several hours before being eaten. To make sure that it does not turn into a gastronomic disaster, use fresh or thoroughly cooked foods and avoid those that are likely to spoil easily, such as rare roast beef and homemade mayonnaise. Do not use leftovers that have been in the refrigerator for several days.

The same kitchen cleanliness rules for preparing at-home meals apply to brown-bag lunch making. Be sure that utensils, hands and work areas are clean. Wash food containers, including the lunch box itself, after each use. Do not reuse paper bags that have already carried food.

Concern of the injured and homeless horses in Florida brought this group of 4-H'ers and parents to donate a truckload of supplies. Seated on hay bales are Melissa Melskey and Carol Hollingsworth. From left are Rose Fellenbaum,

Lancaster 4-H Aids Horses Suffering From Hurricane

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff
LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Not only did the devastation of Hurricane Andrew leave thousands of persons homeless in Florida, but it also injured and stranded about 3,000 horses.

County horse lovers alarmed by the plight of the horses canvassed the area for donations of supplies and medicine for horse care to send to Florida.

Saranna Miller and Rose Fellenbaum, 4-H horse leaders, mobilized local 4-H'ers, businesses, and concerned people to donate 9 tons of hay, 600 pounds of horse feed, vet supplies, halters, lead ropes, and numerous other items to help the Equine Rescue Center set up by the University of Florida.

The Center has more than 90 volunteers who work around the clock to round up the horses and provide food and medical care.

In the first two weeks, the Center's efforts succeeded in getting 79 injured horses to the stables of the Mounted Patrol Barn outside of Coral Gables.

But a spokesperson for the Center estimated that thousands of horses remain homeless.

According to Miller, some people erroneously believe the horses can exist in the wild. This isn't true, she said. "Horses are not equipped to scrounge for themselves. Their digestive systems are prone to develop colic if they eat a lot of sand, which is deadly in a horse."

Normally, there is little vegetation for horses available in Florida. What vegetation is there has been severely damaged by the storm. In addition, there is the decay of dead animals and other garbage that litters the area. One of the top requests from the Florida veterinarians was for wormer.

"Pray for our sanity to get through this. Even in our worst dreams, we never imagined how bad this could be," a volunteer at the Center told Miller.

It is difficult for the Rescue Center to identify the horses, which are stranded many miles from their original home.

Halters and ropes are needed to catch the horses. When Miller and Fellenbaum made these requests known to 4-H'ers, many donated halters and lead ropes of their own. The 4-H'ers and local businesses were able to send 80 halters and 43 lead ropes to the Rescue Center.

In addition to supplies, the truckload included heavy duty plastic tarps and ropes to protect the supplies from the almost daily rains that cover the hurricane-damaged state.

One of the biggest difficulties in arranging delivery of the donations was finding a tractor-trailer and driver to deliver for the supplies.

Eventually, a trailer was donated by John S. Ewell Co. Inc., East Earl and a driver from H.R. Ewell Trucking Co. made local stops to pick up donated items. A driver from Strang Trucking Co. in Baltimore, Md. delivered the items to Florida.

"So many businesses have done so much already. The trucking firms deserve a lot of credit for what they've done," Miller said.

Miller said that she had originally wanted to send the donations to the Dade County Extension office but she had a difficult time locating them.

"The 4-H Dade County Extension office was literally blown off the map," Saranna said.

Consequently, the supplies were sent to the Equine Rescue Center, which was recommended by the 4-H office in Miami.

"We were not surprised at the outpouring of donations because people are extremely generous and compassionate," Miller said. "There was no problem filling the truck."

Miller foresees the problem of helping the animals as a long-term project. Those who would like to send additional supplies or donate money should contact Fellenbaum Stables, 988 Fruitville Pike, Lititz, Pa. 17543 or call (717) 872-4587.

"There are many needs there and we do not wish to undermine the efforts to help humans, but this is one way 4-H'ers can help," Miller said.

HAPPENINGS

The ninth annual Adams County 4-H/FFA Market Swine and Sheep Show and Sale was held at the South Mountain Fairgrounds recently.

It was a successful conclusion for members of both organizations who worked hard since spring getting their animals ready for show. It was a big day as the 33 participants prepared and showed the 28 project lambs and 56 market hogs.

Arendtsville 4-H member Kim Funt showed the grand champion market lamb. The 106-pound champion lamb was bought by Feeser's Hog Farm for a record $5.70 a pound. The champion trophy was donated by Feeser's Hog Farm and banner by the Pat Hawn Family. Kim was also champion senior fitter/showman and received a trophy from the Adams County Sheep Producers Association.

The reserve grand champion market lamb was shown by Kim Funt. The 114-pound lamb was bought by Mountain Dale Farms for $1.80 a pound. The reserve champion trophy was donated by an anonymous donor and banner by the Pat Hawn Family.

York Springs 4-H member Jonathan Reinecker showed the grand champion market hog. The 255-pound champion hog was bought by Hatfield Packing Company for $3 a pound. The champion trophy was donated by Long Lane Farms and rotating plaque by Wayne Feed Supply, Dillsburg.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

Sometimes I feel as though my kitchen is a small food processing plant. Although I raise a variety of vegetables, we do buy peaches, pears and plums. This year I filled all of my clear glass jars and ended up with just blue glass ones that need zinc lids. These are no longer readily available in stores.

Now that I have some fifty quart of beans frozen, I shall have to start drying them. My mother used wooden racks which she placed on the coal stove and even though the beans have a different flavor than fresh ones, I find their distinctive taste pleasing. Long ago I dried corn on top of a large container of hot water. Now we do like the frozen product much better.

For an unusual and colorful centerpiece for a pot luck supper at our church, a lady arranged various vegetables for each table. I was able to contribute a lot of cherry tomatoes which spring up in my garden on their own. As I mentioned previously, I have odd-colored squash and they were used too. Even small pumpkins reseeded themselves at our back-porch and they have crawled under and over our picnic table.

Every fall I manage to wax our car even if I end up with a sore shoulder. You see, I prefer to leave the car outside the garage rather than pull it into the building. My husband is the opposite and the garage door goes up and down many times a day as he comes and goes in his truck. He told me that we would not use the empty side for storage! But, where do you keep a lawn mower, a roto-tiller, a wheelbarrow, and a boat motor?

Chicken GIBLETS

More men than ever are becoming proficient at cooking, both as a creative leisure-time outlet and as part of the daily household routine. But this is not just a '90s trend, according to the National Broiler Council, sponsor of the National Chicken Cooking Contest. Male contestants took home the top prize in both the 1973 and 1976 Cookoffs and there are a growing number of men among the 51 finalists every year. At the last Contest held in Little Rock, Arkansas, two men were among the top five money winners.

The National Chicken Cooking Contest, one of the nation's oldest cooking competitions, began in a small way on the Eastern Shore of Maryland back in 1949. The event has grown in interest and scope through the years and has gained international attention, serving as a model for similar contests in Japan, New Zealand and Sweden. Next year the 40th Cookoff will be held in Richmond, Virginia, with a prize of $25,000 awaiting the new national chicken cooking champion.

What kind of chicken dishes attract the attention of judges at the National Chicken Cooking Contest? There is no one category that predominates among top winners of the past two decades. Reflecting chicken's never-ending versatility, prize winners have included a hot chicken salad, chicken nuggets for dipping, a sandwich, casseroles, several boneless chicken breast dishes — even chicken pizza.

The only required ingredient in recipes entered in the National Chicken Cooking Contest is chicken — whole, or any part or parts. Chicken goes well with most fruits and vegetables and the range of herbs and spices that can be used for seasoning is almost limitless. That's why contestants have prepared chicken in hundreds of different ways since the first Cookoff was held back in 1949.

THE NUTRITIONAL VALUE OF POULTRY MEAT — PART II FAT COMPOSITION AND FACTORS INFLUENCING CARCASS FAT CHARACTERISTICS

Dr. Regina Vasilatos-Younken
Associate Professor Poultry Science

In the previous issue of Poultry Pointers, the topic of the nutritional value of poultry meat was introduced and discussed, and comparisons between the cholesterol and total fat content of poultry meat versus red meats were made.

Of additional importance is the composition of the fat in poultry and red meat products. Saturated fatty acids (SFA) account for about 1 to 3 percent of roasted poultry meat, and represent approximately 30 percent of the total fatty acids present, versus about 2 to 8 percent for beef (50 percent of the total fatty acids). However, it should be noted that more than 40 percent of the SFA in beef (20 percent of the total fatty acids) is stearic acid which, unlike other SFA, does not raise plasma cholesterol levels.

Stearic acid accounts for about 6 percent of the SFA in poultry, with the majority of the SFA being palmitic acid.

Monounsaturated fatty acids (MUFA) constitute the majority of the total fatty acids in poultry meat (approximately 50 percent), the primary form being oleic acid which has been demonstrated to have hypocholesterolemic effects (lowers serum cholesterol levels). MUFA account for 40 percent of the total fatty acids in beef.

Poultry is also substantially higher in polyunsaturated fatty acids (PUFA) (20 percent of the total fatty acids) than beef (approximately 3 percent of the total), the primary form being linoleic acid.

There are two mechanisms by which fat is derived within the body of the bird. One is synthesis of fatty acids from nonfat starting materials or precursors ("de novo" synthesis) and deposition into adipose tissue stores, a process known as lipogenesis. This synthetic process occurs primarily in the liver and carcass (muscle, adipose tissue, and bone) of the chicken, each source (liver, carcass) contributing approximately 30 percent to whole body lipogenesis in the fed bird. The second mechanism is through uptake, transport, and deposition of ingested fatty acids of dietary origin. The composition of fat that accumulates in adipose tissue stores (as triglyceride) in monogastric animals (such as poultry or swine) is influenced by the composition of the fat consumed.

Thus, diets high in unsaturated fatty acids will tend to result in deposition of more unsaturated fatty acids as triglycerides, although some modification of dietary fatty acids does occur (saturation, desaturation, and chain elongation). Because the rate of replacement of fatty acids (turnover) in adipose tissue of broiler chickens is suggested to be impaired, dietary manipulation of broiler carcass fat composition should be started early in the growout period.

Additional facts should be recognized regarding manipulation of carcass fat composition. The physical properties of fatty acids vary a great deal, depending upon chain length and degree of unsaturation, where short chain length and presence of unsaturated bonds lowers the melting point of fatty acids. Thus, plant glycerides which have an abundance of mono- and polyunsaturated fatty acids tend to be liquid at normal room temperature.

A ration high in fatty acids, such as those containing proportionately high levels of plant-derived fats or whole (non-defatted) plant meals rich in linolenic acid, will contribute to more liquid or oily carcass fat problems at processing. Also, a higher proportion of unsaturated fatty acids may contribute to storage problems because of the susceptibility of such fatty acids to oxidative rancidity, in comparison to more saturated fats.

Efforts to increase the content of

"omega-3" fatty acids (fatty acids with a double or unsaturated bond between carbons 3 and 4, counting from the methyl or "omega" end of the molecule) may also lead to problems of oxidative damage with storage. The omega-3 fatty acids are reported to lower serum cholesterol and triglyceride levels, lower blood pressure, and decrease platelet aggregation (related to blood clotting and the development of atherosclerosis) and have beneficial effects in reducing the incidence of myocardial infarctions (heart attacks). These fatty acids are naturally abundant in fish oils.

Alternatively, the inclusion of proportionately more animal fats, particularly of ruminant origin (for example, beef tallow), will increase the content of saturated fatty acids such as stearic acid and provide a firmer carcass with greater shelf life.

Draft Horses Team Up For Festival

ACCORD, N.Y. — Load up on a pancake breakfast, then help load the freshly cut corn at Shellbark Farm on September 26-27 when teams of mighty draft horses will be bringing in the crop.

Matched teams of English Shires, Belgians, and Percherons will be harvesting the corn in the old style between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. at Shellbark Farm on Route 209 during a two-day Fall Harvest Festival sponsored by The Hudson Valley Draft Horse Association.

Visitors to the farm, which is devoted to the preservation of turn-of-the-century farming practices, are invited to sip some hand-pressed apple cider from this season's crop, then watch blacksmiths and spinners demonstrate their crafts. The kids can enjoy hay rides in a cart pulled by two oxen named Duke and Dan, then visit the Wyandotte hens and champion goats. Admission is just $2 per car.

On Sunday morning from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m., dig into a stack of hot griddled pancakes served with local maple syrup, fresh apple topping, and sausage grilled outside over an oak and apple wood fire. Breakfast is $5 for adults and $3 for children under 12.

On both days, The Roundout Valley Rod and Gun Club will be selling a barbecued chicken dinner both days for $6.50, complete with corn, cole slaw, and a highly prized baked bean recipe. More food and beverages will be supplied by Rochester #2 Fire Company, Kerhonkson Fire Company, and the First Aid Squad.

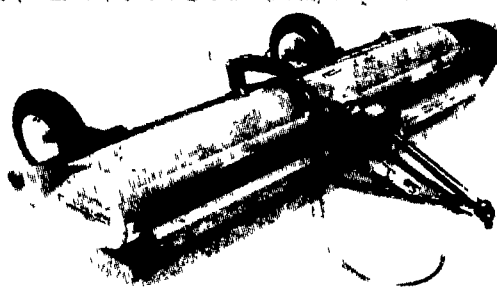

For more information or photos, contact Shellbark Farm, (914) 626-5128.

Adjustable front disc gangs cut the residue. Auto-reset shanks penetrate the soil 8 to 20" to breakup compaction. The rear discs break clods, incorporate residue and level fields. To leave more surface residue and control erosion, raise the gang. Easy manual or hydraulic adjustments change disc cutting depth. Now there's one way to manage surface residue and compaction problems...stop in and we'll talk.

SOIL BUILDERS are a primary conservation tool that breaks up plow pan to absorb moisture and blends surface residue into the soil with enough residue left on top to control wind and water erosion. 5-13 Shank.

FARM MANAGEMENT

COMMON ERRORS IN BUYING INSURANCE

Duane Stevenson
Multicounty Farm Management Agent

The importance of insurance is growing with the ever-increasing investment required in farm assets, and insurance helps you protect these large investments. A major catastrophe might easily cause you to lose your farm or wipe out your savings unless you're adequately insured. On the other hand, carrying larger amounts of insurance than necessary can be costly.

In general, the mistakes that most people make when buying insurance fall into two categories: buying too little and buying too much. The failure to purchase essential coverages can leave an individual vulnerable to unbearable financial loss.

Unless the insurance program is designed to protect against potential catastrophes to which a person or business is exposed, an entire life's work can be lost in a single uninsured loss. On the other hand, it is possible to purchase too much insurance buying protection against losses that could more economically be retained.

The difference in buying the right amount of insurance is compounded by the fact that it is possible to make both mistakes at the same time. Most people spend enough to provide an adequate insurance program, but too often they ignore critical risks. This leaves gaping holes in the overall pattern of protection, while unimportant risks are insured using valuable premium dollars that would be more effectively spent elsewhere.

Some insurance buyers turn the entire decision making process over to an outside party such as an insurance agent, broker, or financial planner. Delegating the responsibility to an outside party does not relieve the insurance buyer of obtaining an optimal program. Keep in mind that these individuals are in the business to sell insurance, so proceed with caution.

An insurance salesman does not enjoy being in a defensive position when a loss takes place. When charged with the overall responsibility for the insurance decisions, he or she may decide to protect himself or herself, as well as the client, by opting for more rather than less insurance.

Even though a competent insurance agent or planner is a valuable source of advice, the basic rules governing the decision should be made by the person or persons most directly involved. These decisions usually have a large financial impact over the long run, either in premiums paid or losses sustained if hazards are not insured.

The Need For A Plan

The basic problem facing any insurance buyer is that of using the available premium dollars to the best possible advantage. In order to obtain the maximum benefit from the dollars spent, some sort of plan is needed. Otherwise, there is a tendency to view the purchase of insurance as a series of individual, isolated decisions, rather than a single problem. Also, there are no guidelines in dealing with the various risks faced.

A priority ranking for insurance expenditures can help you in devising your plan. Such a plan can be formulated to set priorities for the allocation of premium dollars on the basis of a classification of risks or potential losses. Insurance coverages are designed to protect against three main categories of risks: Essential, Desirable, and Optional.

• Essential insurance coverages include those designed to protect against loss exposures that could result in bankruptcy. Insurance required by law is also considered Essential. Keeping in mind that a loss may or may not occur is less important than possible size.

• Desirable insurance coverages include those which protect against loss exposures that would force the insured to borrow or resort to credit.

• Optional insurance coverages include those which protect against losses that could be met out of existing assets or current income.

Advantages of Deductibles

The need for insurance is dictated by the inability to withstand the loss in question if the insurance is not purchased. People who need insurance are those who can least afford it, but they are the ones who can least afford to be without it.

In determining whether or not to purchase insurance in a particular situation, the important question is not "Can I afford it?" but rather "Can I afford to be without it?"

When available dollars cannot provide all of the essential and desirable coverages you want to carry, the question becomes where to cut. One approach is to assume a part of the loss in connection with these coverages, thereby freeing dollars for others that you desire.

In most lines of insurance, full coverage is uneconomical because of high cost of protecting against small losses. If you exclude coverage for these losses through deductibles, the premium credits granted may permit you to purchase others that are desirable.

Tax Considerations

You should consider the impact that tax laws may have on insurance costs and losses.

For instance, the farming business's property and liability insurance premiums are a deductible expense, as are uninsured losses. However, contributions to a funded retention program are not deductible.

The situation with respect to the individual is considerably different. Insurance premiums are not a tax deductible expenditure for the individual, but uninsured casualty losses are. In addition, uninsured property and casualty losses are deductible from taxable income only when you itemize your deductions on the IRS form Schedule A and exceed the standard deduction for your taxpayer classification.

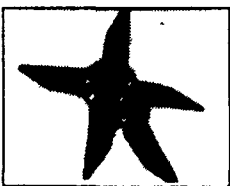

Also when you complete Form 4684, "Casualties and Thefts," the loss must be greater than $100 and an adjustment is made to your loss by subtracting 10 percent of your adjusted gross income (Form 1040, line 32). In some instances you may need to obtain assistance from your tax preparer.

Remember that establishing a feasible and durable insurance program will take time on your part. You may need to obtain assistance from several professionals and also evaluate your needs in your farming business, as well as your personal ones.

"Earlier this spring, I used the Aer-Way Implement and Aer-Way chain harrow on my rolling pastureland. This was done to open up the ground to get water into the sloping grasslands. At the same time I pulled the Aer-Way chain harrow to scatter the cattle manure around. Even after the dry summer we had, I noticed that the Aer-Wayed ground held the moisture better and we got thicker and taller regrowth where we ran the machine."

Dr. Rex Wilhelm D.V.M., Stuart, Iowa

"I have better pastures since I started using the Aer-Way to aerate and renovate my pastures. Using the Aer-Way has helped me get the nutrients where they are needed. I would not recommend fertilizing or liming without running the Aer-Way first."

Sandy Fisher, Brookview Farm - Beef Cattle Operation
Manakin-Sabot, Virginia

"This year we ran the Aer-Way over half the land where we had harvested corn silage. We then spread between 4,000-5,000 gallons of liquid manure per acre and disked the seed bed to prepare for small grains. We were absolutely amazed at the difference where we used the Aer-Way and one disked. My non-Aer-Wayed ground was disked 3 to 4 times and still wasn't as good. I would recommend the Aer-Way to other farmers as it softens the ground and lets rain and manure penetrate instead of running off."

First Annual Open Dairy Show At Wyoming Fair

RONALD CLARK

Wyoming Co. Correspondent
MESHOPPEN (Wyoming Co.)
 — Misty Baker of Meshoppen was the proud showman of the supreme champion of the Wyoming County Fair Open Dairy Show held at the fairgrounds near Meshoppen.

Her 3-year-old Jersey Cow, Faus F 8 Molasses, was also judged to have the best udder in the show.

Kenneth Teel, also of Meshoppen, along with his family, received the award as the premier exhibitor.

Judging the dairy animals was Glen Tripp, Holstein breeder from Little Genessee, N.Y. More than 175 cows and calves were entered in various classes of competition.

Livestock Notes

Initial Backfat Affects

Feedlot Performance Of Steers

Researchers at Kansas State University recently showed that for steers to reach the same degree of outside fat, both final weight and initial backfat must be considered. The study compared three groups of steers that averaged 650 pounds at the start, but differed in initial backfat by .1 inch. The cattle were fed either a growing ration (mostly silage) or put on full feed.

Results showed that steers with the highest level of initial fat responded differently to the growing ration than those with less fat. Their final weight at .4 inch of rib fat was 1,100 to 1,150, while those with medium (.2 inch) and low (.1 inch) of initial fat were 100 and 200 pounds heavier, respectively. Further, high initial fat was related to lower final weight for full fed steers (1,110 pounds vs. 1,163 pounds). Those fed growing diets — then full-fed to finish — required more days on feed since they had lower average daily gains. The percentage reaching choice quality grade did not differ.

Steers fed growing diets before being full-fed with .1 to .2 inch of initial fat did not differ in their final weight at .4 inch of rib fat, compared to steers full-fed for the entire period. This indicates final weight was not affected by feeding regime to a fat-constant endpoint in this group. Economics, then, would dictate that feeders should consider a wide range of feeding strategies for feeder steers with low initial backfat. The price of feed energy from several sources, including a growing ration high in forages, would be an important factor for thinner, less conditioned feeder steers.

A word of caution: This information failed to show if there was a difference in frame size between the groups. This is important to know because, if the group with higher initial fat was fatter because of differences in breed, frame, or maturity (smaller-framed calves of predominantly British breeding vs. larger-framed, continental breeds), the differences in final weight would be biased by this factor.

Bobcat 7753 Long-Wheelbase Skid-Steer Loader

It's What's Inside That Counts!

Swingout Tailgate - one side engine and engine components service. Easy access to oil cooler and radiator (which are well protected). No need to raise lift arms.

Operator Friendly. You'll find the 7753 offers easy operator entry/exit into a roomy cab.

Dependable drive chains that NEVER need adjusting. The "bow tie" design uses prestressed, heavy-duty drive chains in two short continuous loops per side. That means long-life in the most rugged use and NO periodic, time-consuming drive chain adjustments.

Easy-to-use foot pedals control loader hydraulic functions, while two steering levers allow precise maneuverability.

Durable axles! Bobcat 7753 axles are solidly built then specially heat treated. Axle Bearings NEVER need greasing because a sealed oil bath keeps them lubricated. New axle hub design protects axle seal from damage from wire or twine. Hub is easily removed if service is required.

Experience America's Best.

Melroe company has over 30 years of skid-steer loader experience — longer than anyone else. That's one of the reasons Fortune Magazine has twice recognized the Bobcat loader as one of the 100 products "America Builds Best"

Reliable Components.

Other than a few daily checks and fills, you can rely on the PERFORMANCE of the 7753 Bobcat. It has been designed and built with durability and low maintenance in mind.

Great Serviceability!

The Bobcat 7753 has been designed to be serviced quickly. For example, there's single-side access to the transversely-mounted engine, a lift-out oil cooler for easy cleaning and a tip-up cab to expose hydraulic and hydrostatic components. For repairs, the exclusive BOSS® System can help quickly diagnose system problems. These features, along with a factory-trained service technicians and "top-shelf" parts availability, mean your loader can be back on the job in no time.

New Dairy Consulting Service In Western Pa.

NEW CASTLE (Lawrence Co.) — Philip Anderson has recently established an independent nutrition service in western Pennsylvania called Anderson Dairy Management.

Through scheduled monthly visits, Anderson will balance rations and offer advice on related aspects of dairy herd management. There will be no feed or mineral sales of any kind.

Key features of this service include objective ration balancing for all groups on the farm, feed analysis, monthly review of records, and input on feed supply and management.

Benefits to clients may include increased production, reduced feed costs, improved feeding systems, and fewer health and metabolic problems.

"Independent consulting is new to most Western Pennsylvania dairy farms," said Anderson, "but it is long overdue. An independent nutritionist works for the clients only, and draws from a wide variety of resources to help them achieve their goals. There is no 'magic formula' for success — each farm is different and must direct management to improve the bottom line."

Anderson offers a broad range of experience after working four years as a multicounty dairy agent for Penn State Extension in Lawrence, Butler, and Beaver counties. Highlights from his extension program include his Heifer Feeding School, Dairy Feeding School, Reproductive Management Workshop, Mammary Management Clinic, and the Business of Feeding Cows Workshop series. Anderson also worked with the 4-H Dairy Overnights and established the AgQuest study tour program. He has experience balancing rations for high-protein breeds, intensive grazing, and all types of feeding systems. Anderson can be reached by phone at (412) 667-0763.

4-H Judging Is Hard, Rewarding Work

Maryland Correspondent
TIMONIUM, Md. — The Maryland 4-H Judging Contest is hard work but exciting as each participant works from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. in judging classes of animals. During the contest, they are not permitted to communicate with each other or anyone but the superintendent.

Concentrating on each class, they put to use the knowledge their coaches have taught them during several months in practice. Then there is the waiting for each 4-H'er, as individual placings are computed and winners selected for awards at the evening program.

As county teams sit in groups in the audience, loud cheers, clapping, and cow bells jingle as they encourage their team members when called to the platform to receive their reward for a job well done.

The 10 individuals scoring highest in the senior divisions remain at the fair for two days of coaching and practice. From these 10, four individuals are chosen, according to their five highest average scores to represent Maryland at the national contests.

The four contestants chosen to represent Maryland at the National Dairy Judging Contest in Madison, Wis., are Marie Speak, from Carroll County; Chip Savage, of Montgomery County; Kristi Geary, Montgomery County, and Mark Iager, of Howard County.

In addition, four other contestants, Brian Erhardt, of Baltimore County; Donovan Hollingsworth, Queen Annes County; April Hall, Queen Annes County; and Brian Schnebly, Washington County, were chosen to represent Maryland at the North American International Livestock Expo in Louisville, Ky. Dr. and Mrs. Lee Majeskie are to be coaches.

Sire Power Technician Reaches Milestone

TUNKHANNOCK (Wyoming Co.) — The National Association of Animal Breeders (NAAB) honored David Patrick at their annual conference for breeding 100,000 first services as a Sire Power technician.

Patrick has been breeding cows since 1955. He started with a 1,100-cow area in Howard County, Maryland as a part-time technician. Patrick's area grew to 3,800 cows. At the county's peak, Patrick would visit 20 different farms a day. Today the area has decreased in cow numbers to about 1,100 cows.

Patrick says he has seen many changes in the A.I. industry since he first began in the 1950s — changes from inseminating with fresh semen to frozen semen with liquid nitrogen, changes in thawing procedures, changes in the timing of breeding, and the increased amount of information dairy farmers utilize for mating their herd.

Instead of using daughter/dam comparisons, AI now uses a comparison of contemporaries. Production has always been important to milk producers, but now protein, components, and solids have become important because of cheese prices. Functional type, feet, legs, and udders are another important factor that dairy producers use to make breeding decisions.

Patrick owns a 75 percent registered Holstein and 100 percent registered Ayrshire dairy with his brother, James Patrick outside of Frederick, Md. With the help of David's two sons, Dennis and Mike, the four farm 1,000 acres of land and have an Ayrshire BAA of 103 and a Holstein BAA of 104.

PREVENT PIGLET CRUSHING

Model 90 Farrowing Crate

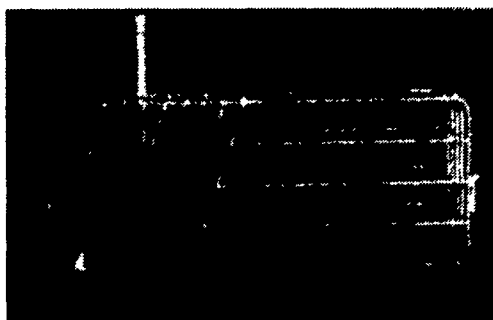

GALVANIZED!

Constructed from heavy gauge materials this crate is designed to reduce crushing, with sow comfort in mind. The bowed bottom bars makes for a comfortable 33" crate width when the sow lays down, yet the adjustable anti-crush bars eliminates the sow from carelessly dropping in the piglets.

This movement restriction does not hamper the sow as she lays down, or wants to stand up, as the bars slide up and out of her way.

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

YORK (York Co.)—When the final class of both ewe and ram champions were assembled at the York Fair open breeding sheep show Monday night, Judge Mark Johnson had plenty of quality. And after selecting three or four finalists that he said he would like to take along with his show string, Johnson chose Michael Klinedinst's champion Hampshire ewe and Dee McGuigan's champion Suffolk ram for the supreme champions. Klinedinst is from Stewartstown. The champion was a homebred Spring lamb that came from a 4-H project.

McGuigan is from Windsor, and her winning ram was also a Spring lamb.

In the Cheviot show, John Eaton, Sr., took all the champion honors.

In the Dorset show, John Eaton, Jr., had the grand champion ram, and Julie Kern had the grand champion ewe. Brian Bankert & Family had the reserve champion ram and the reserve champion ewe.

Joyce Bupp

York Co. Correspondent

YORK (York Co.) — Four York County 4-H'ers split top honors in the York Fair's 4-H Breeding Sheep show.

Taking Supreme Champion titles were Blake McKinney, Meghan Hayes, Mike Klinedinst and Matt Trostle, who won two top awards.

Trostle, a 13-year-old veteran shepherd from Red Lion, claimed both the champion meat ram, a January-born entry, and champion pair with his homebred Southdowns.

Champion meat ewe was a Hampshire exhibited by Mike Klinedinst of Stewartstown. The supreme honor was one of numerous top sheep show awards earned by Klinedinst as he wraps up his final years as a 4-H'er.

Blake McKinney of York claimed the supreme wool ram title with her winning Romney entry. The 13-year-old, in her fourth year of 4-H competition, took the top title with a February ram.

Sporting a thick, quality fleece, the Rambouillet ewe exhibited by 11-year-old Meghan Hayes topped all other breed contenders to win the supreme wool ewe rosette. The Red Lion 4-H'er is in her third year of youth show competition and utilizes her wool production for dyeing and spinning.

In the breed show, Julie Kern of York took all top honors in the Dorset classes, Karen Keyser claimed all Shropshire titles, Matt Trostle dominated in Southdowns and Jennifer Flinchbaugh won the Natural Colored awards. In Hampshires, Trostle exhibited the champion ram, with Mike Klinedinst winning the ewe honors. Suffolk champion honors were shared by Mike Burrell, with the winning ram, and Julie Kern taking the ewe award.

Fitting honors went to Julie Kern, champion and Mike Klinedinst, reserve, while Matt Trostle and Dave Myers were the champ-

Learn To Calculate Heifer Costs

HUNTINGDON (Huntingdon Co.) — The cost of replacement heifers represents a significant proportion of the cost of producing milk. However, replacement heifer production costs are often difficult to separate from those associated with the rest of the farm, since reported costs of producing milk include production expenses for raising replacements.

According to Steve Ford, Penn State ag economist, one way to see the importance of replacement costs is to put the cost of a replacement heifer on a per-hundredweight of milk basis using estimated costs. The figures used in the following examples are from "The Farm Management Handbook," developed by Penn State Cooperative Extension.

A producer has the opportunity to sell a raised replacement for market price and there is a cost of foregoing that opportunity. Therefore, whether or not the replacement is raised or purchased, the market price for a heifer would be the cost of the replacement. Because not all cows are replaced each year, the market price must be multiplied by the average cull rate to calculate the average replacement cost per cow in the milk herd.

For example, if the replacement costs $1,100 and the average cull rate is 33 percent, then the cost per cow is $367 ($1,100 x .33). If the average cow milks 16,000 pounds, then the replacement cost per hundredweight of milk is $2.30 ($367/160 cwt). The cost of replacements would, however, be offset by cull sales. If a cull brings $600, then the actual cost of the replacement is $500, or $165 per milk cow, or $1.03 per hundredweight of milk. Still, this is a significant proportion of the cost of producing milk and the price received for milk.

The same calculations can be used for cash costs of raised replacement heifers. (The opportunity cost of the replacement is still the market purchase price.) For example, if the estimated cash cost of raising a replacement heifer is $900 and the average cull rate is 33 percent, then the cost per cow would be $297. The cost would be $1.86 per hundredweight of milk if the herd averaged 16,000 pounds per cow. If a cull cow brings $600, then the cost per milk cow falls to $99, or $0.62 per hundredweight of milk.

Several observations can be made with this type of analysis. First, the replacement cost per hundredweight of milk will increase as the cull rate increases, and decrease as production per cow increases. Producers should also be careful when comparing their own costs of replacements on a hundredweight basis to their costs of producing milk. If cull income is already deducted from the cost of producing milk, then the offsetting cull income should not be deducted from the replacement cost, too. The significant proportion of milk receipts needed to cover replacements costs should indicate to milk producers the importance of efficient heifer production.

MMI Sets Meeting

STRONGSVILLE, Ohio — Milk Marketing Inc. (MMI) invites area dairy producers to attend its annual fall district meeting on Tuesday, September 22.

The 7:15 p.m. meeting for MMI District 3, Local 1 is being held at Shadyside Inn, Uniontown, Pa. Milk prices, production trends, co-op activities, and direction for 1992 top the business meeting agenda.

"Our theme this fall is 'MMI ... we're changing together'" said Don Schriver, MMI general manager. "It's at this meeting that we have the chance to review the changing events affecting our organization, discuss their outcomes, and ask our members, 'How can we do a better job next year?' That's why member participation is critical to the process."

Following the management presentation, MMI Director Tom Croner, Berlin, Pa., will review the board and other industry activities.

BREWEX - For Use In Dairy Feeds

BREWEX is used extensively in complete dairy formulations to contribute utilizable energy. It is a price/performance value when used in dry feeds, liquid feeds and on-farm mixes.

MIX WITH DRY FEEDS: BREWEX is found in commercial pelleted rations for dairy, hogs and poultry as an energy source to replace corn. BREWEX replaces corn on a pound for pound dry basis and provides for improved pellet durability, reduced mineral segregation, dust control and improved palatability in dairy rations.

ON-FARM MIXING

A commercial Jersey dairy farm, having over ten years of experience in feeding BREWEX to partially replace corn finds that

- BREWEX replaced 5% to 10% corn/day
- BREWEX improves butterfat about 0.1%
- BREWEX mixed with forage reduces mortality due to displaced abomasum
- BREWEX helps cattle to stay on feeds

MEAT MATTERS MOST

HOME BRED lambs like these have been winning for me and my buyers in the Mid-Atlantic area. They LOOK GOOD. They HANDLE GOOD. They CUT GOOD. My latest triumph was Grand Champion carcass at the 1991 Keystone International Livestock Exposition. Check these stats.

Birds of every size get the right amount of water on low pressure.

Ziggity's new two-stage metering pin gives day-old birds, who typically trigger the pin side-to-side, just the right amount of water.
When more mature birds trigger the pin vertically, they get up to 200%
more water.
And it all happens at low pressure levels—levels that prevent excess water from bypassing birds' beaks and saturating your litter. This means better feed conversion, bigger, healthier birds — and more profitable broilers.

A SUPER DEAL!

Most Mix-All owners will never buy another.

In fact, you'd probably have a hard time convincing Gehl Mix-All® owners to even look at anything else. And why should they?

The Mix-All's big 21-inch wide hammermill features 66 reversible thin hammers that cut, rather than pound the feed to deliver a more consistent grind and ensure uniform mixing for a better feed conversion rate.

Gehl's self-contained hydraulic system is designed-in, not added on. It provides the precision of infinitely variable in-feed attachment control to match tractor power for greater grinding capacity. Plus you get fast, smooth, trouble-free unloading with greater reliability.

And a wide variety of options and attachments lets you customize your Mix-All to fit any operation.

See your Gehl dealer for more details on the model that's right for you. It may just be the only grinder-mixer you'll ever need.

With this concentrate feeding system LESS MEANS MORE

Dairymen report a 7-8% increase in milk yield with 5% less concentrate input with the new VA 500.

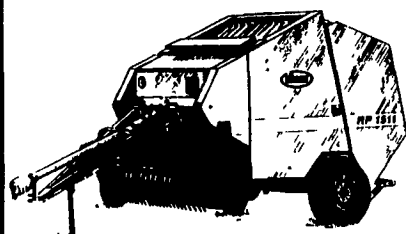

Each cow's ration is fed automatically according to her individual lactation curve. Feeding for production means high producing cows get more. Every cow pays her way. The whole herd can be housed together and you don't need complicated computer support systems for operation.

It pays to be square

For custom operators, Vicon's new Compact 800 high density baling system delivers baling speed and packing capacity - up to 20 to 24 tons of hay per hour - in a square package that's right for stacking, handling, transport and feeding.

Bales are 2'8" x 2'8" square, variable in length from 2'8" to 8'3". They stack like brick and mortar so hauling is safe and economical.

Maneuverable shape, variable sizes and layered composition make Compact 800 square bales the choice for handling and feeding in any operation.

The Square Answer.

THE BRAGGING STOPS. IN THE FIELD

Axial-Flow Combines Are Simply More Productive

Over the past fourteen years the Case IH axial-flow combines have proven themselves to be more productive than the combines previously owned by our customers. In tall crops, short crops or down crops; bumper crops or drought crops the axial-flow combines put more crop in the bin and, therefore, return more market dollars to you. The Case IH axial-flow is simply more productive in the field where the bragging stops.

HOOBER:

Axial-Flow production specialists

1. Every new combine Hooper sells is expertly predelivered and started in the field by a professional combine mechanic; experienced in setting and adjusting for all common crops.
2. Hooper's professional combine mechanics drive fully equipped combine service trucks, stocked with commonly used wearing parts. When called to service or repair an axial-flow combine, they carry with them the tools and equipment to do the job and get you back to the field fast.
3. Hooper's Parts Department has the largest combine parts inventory in the East. Daily pick-ups at the Case IH Parts depot help to provide fast emergency parts availability. Hooper's expert combine PARTS service provides you minimum downtime and maximum productivity.

 Strengthen And Reseal Your Silo With Shotcrete

STRONGER AND WILL OUT LAST PLASTER

IS YOUR SILO READY TO BE FILLED WITH CORN SILAGE?

PLEASE CHECK YOUR FILL PIPES AND DISTRIBUTORS NOW BEFORE FILLING SEASON

S&S Silo Service prepares the silo surface by using a 3,000 lb. pressure washer, thus making the silo moist, making a much better surface to bond shotcrete. After shotcreting, S&S always takes away any roughness by applying a steel trowel finish.

The excellent bonding of shotcrete to the silo will keep out moisture and prevent mold from growing on the side of the silo.

'TIS THE SEASON!

Yes - The Harvest Season Is Here!
 Store your good corn crop in a POURED CONCRETE SOLLENBERGER SILO.

Units available for "High-Moisture" shelled corn or "Ground Ear" corn. Bottom-Unloading or Top-Unloading. Consider the Many Advantages of Concrete! 6" thick concrete walls to keep feed cooler because concrete reflects the sun's rays, and has 25 times more insulating power than steel. The concrete silo has a much lower maintenance requirement because there are not thousands of bolts to rust and work loose and no seams to reseal. The poured concrete silo is heavily reinforced to give you a very strong structure.

Unload from the bottom with a simple auger for high-moisture shelled corn, (least expensive); Laidig 43 for shelled corn or cob corn, or Flying Dutchman for grains or Forages.

PURINA
MILLS, INC.

Dairy Tips By Dr. Randy Lyle, Ph.D.

Purina Mills Dairy Consultant

DO SILAGE ADDITIVES MAKE YOUR SILAGE BETTER?

The answer is NO!!! The fact that you use a silage additive on your forage does not make the forage test any better than when it goes in the silo.

The purpose of using a silage additive is to help speed up the fermentation process and to help keep heat from causing too much damage to the forage. There are many types of additives that can be used to complete this job including enzymes and inoculants (bacteria).

Enzymes help break down the carbohydrates in the feed to make it available to the natural bacteria on the plant. The natural bacteria can then use the carbohydrates to complete their job quicker. By using a product which contains inoculant (bacteria) you are simply adding more "bugs" to get the job done quicker.

If you are considering a silage additive to use on your forage compare Purina. Purina has 3 products to choose from: Purina Maxi-Sil

1. Purina Silage Additive - a blend of organic acid and enzymes
2. Purina Dry Silage Inoculant - a complete bacterial inoculant
3. Purina Water Dispersable Silage Inoculant - a complete bacterial inoculant to be mixed with water

IMPORTANT CONSIDERATIONS:

- is there enough additive applied to each lb. of forage to have an effect?
- is the product university tested or researched?
- is the additive mixed well with the forage?
- is the product cost effective?
- does the product have a high enough level of enzyme or bacteria?

If you have these questions about your current product or are considering trying something new call your local Purina Dealer today! You can see the results of Purina Maxi-Sil when the forage test sample comes back!
